LA FOLLETTE HAS BILL Senator Bingham Submits Resolution for Creating Civil Aircraft Bureau

Washington, D. C.—(AP)—Representative Browne of Wisconsin introduced into the house Thursday a resolution seeking to confer on the court of claims jurisdiction for adjudication of petitions for damages against the United States for floods on the Fox and Wolf rivers in Wisconsin.

The resolution sets forth that the engineering department once was given control of rivers for navigation purposes and through the construction of dams the Fox river maintained a higher level for water than was necessary. This policy, says the resolution, resulted in an annual overflow of approximately 40,000 acres and damage of more than $5,000,000 to valuable farm lands.

The resolution would give the riparian land owners along the river the right to sue the government for losses.

BOB'S BILL.
Senator Robert M. La Follette introduced a bill authorizing continuous discharge books for American seamen which would serve as permanent records of assignments. The bill previously had been offered by his father whom he succeeded.

The new congress took its first actual step Friday toward carrying into effect the recommendations of President Coolidge's air board, when a bill by Senator Bingham, (Rep.) Connecticut, for encouragement of civil aviation was reported by the senate commerce committee.

The bill provides for a commerce department bureau of civil aeronautics and an additional assistant secretary of commerce to coordinate all government facilities for the development of civil aviation.

Provision is made for lighting airways and airports, licensing of commercial pilots, regulation of commercial craft by government inspectors and special weather reports for aircraft.

DAWES IS BUTT
The senate rules amendment campaign of Vice President Dawes who has demonstrated ample capacity for good natured absorption of senatorial railroading, has afforded the theme for most of the diversions so far. The vice president smiled through a half hour of satirical allusion to his campaign from Senator Harrison, (Dem.) Mississippi. He later expressed his appreciation of suggested smiles from the Mississippi Senator ranging from Don Quixote to a "misguided mule."

In the house Republican organization of committees the bloc of Irregulars on the majority side of the house have paid the price of insolvency by being swept from all the more important standing committees with a single exception. It so happened that the exception fell upon member of the group for whom the insurgents voted for speaker, Representative Cooper of Wisconsin.

In showing leniency in his case because of his long service in the house, the Republican committee on committees, however, removed Mr. Cooper from his ranking position on the foreign affairs committee and placed him at the bottom of the list of Republican members of the committee. Others in the insurgent group will be assigned to minor committees yet to be organized.

Pinchpenny Policy Ends, U. S. Wants More Money

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright, 1925, by Post Pub. Co., Washington, D. C.—Economy to the bone has run its course. Economy based on a recognition that government is a gradually expanding institution has come to take its place. There is more than passing significance in this change of policy. It will guide the whole session of congress and may indirectly influence the course of business.

For President Coolidge has been hearing during the last two years that his economy program has been hurting business and lowering the morale of government bureaus by keeping them in a constantly unsettled state. He has been urged to substitute prudent economy for drastic economy.

Members of congress have insisted that it is one thing to cut expenses in time of stress but it's quite another to cut them when the government is showing a comfortable surplus every year. There never was a time when the government couldn't save a billion by stopping purely paternalistic activities.

The demand from the country reflected in congress through various pieces of legislation has been for government aid. Having been educated in that direction, it is difficult now to turn the tide back.

Mr. Coolidge started out to cut expenses to the very minimum. But revenue chiefs abandoned many needed activities. Personnel was cut down. So long as the president dictated the policy his subordinates fell in line. Then the first break came when Mr. Coolidge was told that public buildings throughout the country were congested and in need of enlargement. He saw that the housing of the government here required additional funds. In other words, an expanding government could not be run on a constantly diminished budget. Added to this was the plaint of business men that the stories about using last year's straw had influenced the public to a degree of economy justified by the prosperous condition of the country.

Mr. Coolidge has been between the fires. He has on the one hand desired to give the government the benefit of added appropriations but he has sought at the same time to hold congress back from its temptation to spend.

It's a serious question now how much the little hint of tolerance toward increased expense contained in the president's budget message will be construed by congress as permission to put through pet projects most of which can be plausibly defended.

In asking for a budget of $3,550,716,942, the president goes beyond last year's figures by about $163,000,000. He feels now that last year was the minimum. It was worth something to have cut him the very lowest point was reached. No there is a better understanding of just what peace time expenditures must include. Best of all, however, from Mr. Coolidge's viewpoint, is the educational process by which the relationship between reduced expenditures and lower taxes has been implanted in the public mind. Mr. Coolidge has thus far taken the responsibility for economy and has made it possible to reduce taxes. Now he transfers that burden to congress where the pressure for relief must sooner or later make itself felt if the house and senate should adopt a policy of spending as much revenue as comes in.

The demand for a surplus will inevitably arise after the fiscal year from June 30, 1926, to June 30, 1927 has passed and the country is on the threshold of another presidential election.

Blaine's Delegate Conducts Hearing of Charges Against Racine District Attorney

Racine.—(AP)—Commissioner F. M. Wylie of Madison, appointed by Governor Blaine, is conducting a hearing under charges brought by Attorney George S. Lavin against District Attorney L. D. Potter. Lavin accused Potter with neglect of duty in office with reference to a case in which Louis Nathanson charged Walter Baker with blackmail and also with reference to a matter of a loan made by Mrs. Anna Vesley to Walter Wilson. The latter being said to be a case of embezzlement. Lavin claims that Potter displayed a hostile attitude toward him in the former case, that he showed lack of interest and that he was too friendly with some of the witnesses.

Already several witnesses have given testimony relating to the various details of the matters under which the charges have been brought.

Lavin is being assisted in the presentation of his side of the case by Attorney Charles Kromke while Attorney Thomas M. Kearney, Jr., and Thorwald M. Beck are assisting Potter.

LOUCHEUR WANTS DEBT TO U. S. SETTLED FIRST

Paris.—(AP)—Finance Minister Loucheur told the financial committee of the chamber of deputies Friday that it was necessary to regulate France's debt to America before that owed to Great Britain.

M. Loucheur expressed the desire of the government to make fiscal reforms and stabilize the franc after the settlement of the inter-allied debts. The minister received a cold welcome from the deputies.

STABLE GROOM BECOMES SHAH OF PERSIANS

Reza Kahn Pehlevi, Late With Cossacks, to Ascend Throne on Monday

New York.—(AP)—From hostler in the stables of the Cossacks to Shah of Persia has been the rise of Reza Kahn Pehlevi.

From tender of the horses Reza entered the Cossacks and in 1921 led the revolt which culminated in the overthrow of the shah and his assumption of the role of dictator.

And now, advised from Teheran, the capital of Persia, that on Dec. 14 Reza will ascend the throne. Meanwhile, the 27-year-old monarch, who is in France moving frequently between Paris and the Riviera, and declaring he still remains the ruler of his erstwhile realm.

The dashing Reza, despite his humble origin, is possessed of both strategy and statecraft. As soon as he became premier and minister of war, in other words dictator, he began the reorganization of the country. At first he desired a republic but he was thwarted in his efforts to establish one by the opposition of the priests. Then when the national assembly late in October proclaimed the deposition of the Kajar dynasty Reza is said to have immediately set his heart on ascending the throne.

MAN OF COURAGE
He brought about unification of the unruly tribes in a single entity and raised an army of 40,000 men. He saw that they were paid, fed and clothed, thus insuring to himself their loyalty when needed.

Personal courage is said to have aided him materially in holding his troops at hand. When in 1921 the Khorassan tribe rebelled, Reza is declared to have gone personally into the rebel camp, killed the leader and put down the rebellion. The Persian parliament, known as the National Consultative assembly, has been retained by Reza to carry out his own will in the manner of a constitutional regime. It is believed this body has sanctioned his elevation to the throne.

The new ruler of the Persians had little chance during his childhood to obtain even an elementary education and it has been rumored that as far as writing is concerned he is only able to sign his own name.

RAID LOUNGE ROOM OF BANKERS CONVENTION
St. Petersburg, Fla.—(AP)—Pinellas officials were continuing their inquiry Friday to determine who is responsible for the presence of 39 quarts of whiskey and three gallons of fine rum in a Sereno hotel room Thursday. The whiskey was seized by Chief deputy Strickland in a raid on the room which was used as a lounge or reception room by delegates attending the convention of the Investment Bankers' Association of America.

No arrests were made up to a late hour Thursday night in connection with the raid and seizure of the liquor, which is said to have been fresh from rum ships in the Gulf of Mexico.

Strickland, however, declared that he would seek a warrant for James E. Coak, executive vice president of the Pinelake Chamber of Commerce, host of the convention. Mr. Coak denied any knowledge of the whiskey.

About one-fourth of the 587 university colleges and other institutions on higher education in the United States will be represented by student delegates.

"Should America join the court?" will be debated Friday night at the opening session, with United States Senator Lenroot of Wisconsin advocating each action and Clarence Darrow Chicago lawyer, opposing.

No Christmas Here Unless Good Fellows Help Out

"Dear friends I am dropping you a few lines to let you know that we have five children and had such bad luck this year that we ain't going to have much of a Christmas unless someone helps us. Our baby is one year old and he got his leg broke in July and has just got it out of the cast. Then the boy three years old was sick six weeks. The doctor came almost every day. Then the girl six years old stepped on an iron rake and was laid up a long time. Then the hold eight years old had sore eyes and we had to take him to a doctor and get glasses for him. My oldest boy and myself are the only ones who have not been hurt or sick. My husband last February broke his leg in a fall here and couldn't do much of anything.

"We did not have a Thanksgiving dinner because we didn't have money to buy anything. My husband and I are trying to get the money to buy the coal and wood and clothes but we won't be able to get anything for Christmas. I wish you could do something for the children so they will have a Christmas. The girl wants a doll, and the boy, 8, wants a lady's car. I wish the boy, 8, could have a wagon. The baby needs some clothes.

The above letter, typical of dozens that come to the four charities cooperating in Appleton Welfare council and sharing in the Good Fellows' contributions, indicates the dire necessity for help for the city's poor. This letter is not representative of the saddest cases in the city by any means, but it does show the misfortune which is the lot of some of Appleton's people. It is for families like that, the singular part of misfortune, that the Good Fellows club is organized. They are destitute because illness and injuries have taken away the wage earner or take so large a portion of the wage earner's pay that there is little or nothing left for the barest comforts of life.

There are approximately 200 families in the city receiving help from the Welfare council. At least $2,000 is required each year to carry on the work and that is the amount the Good Fellows are trying to subscribe. Use the "application blank" printed in this paper when you send in your "membership fee." Let your conscience determine its size.

SAYS NATIONAL

MORE FREEDOM
Federal Restrictions Injuring System, Comptroller of Currency Reports

Washington, D. C.—(AP)—National banks throughout the country are feeling more and more the restriction laid around them by federal statutes and greater freedom for them was described as imperative in the annual report of J. W. McIntosh, comptroller of the currency. The comptroller cited detailed statistics to show an increasing exodus from the national banking system and he predicted it would continue until the national banking laws are amended.

To accomplish the needed relief, Mr. McIntosh strongly urged enactment of the McFadden bill, a measure which was passed by the house last congress, but which never was reached by the senate.

Mr. McIntosh said that although the resources of the national banks had steadily increased from year to year and the condition of the individual banks remained strong, the relative increase nevertheless in the total resources of the national institutions has been slowly falling off as compared with the resources of state banks and trust companies. He mentioned that during the 10-year period ending with July 1, 1921, the total resources of national banks had fallen from 75 per cent of the total banking resources of the country to about 47 per cent. The past 18 months, he said, had witnessed a further shrinkage in the proportion of the total resources held by the national banks.

"These facts present a serious situation for the consideration of the congress," the comptroller said. "The greatest number of failures occurred where the territories had too many banks per capita and where too many bank charters were issued during the boom period of the war and immediately after peace was declared. Not only was there insufficient business for the support of these banks but their organization resulted in hazardous and unwarranted competition."

The son of the deceased Seymour R. Heymann, who has applied to have the will of Mr. Heymann filed in probate, claims his father established his residence at Fort Meyers, Fla., but John Harrington, inheritance tax counsel for the state, and S. J. Luchinsinger public administrator for Winnebago-co., declare Simon Heymann was a resident of Oshkosh when he died and that Wisconsin is entitled to a larger inheritance tax than would be the case if it was established that Florida was the home of the deceased. The matter will probably go to the supreme court as a test case.

Court-martial Hears Data on Futility of Aerial Warfare in World War

Washington, D. C.—(AP)—Foreign interests have secured exclusive concessions for an operation in South America, the Mitchell court-martial was told Friday by Major George V. Strong of the army general staff.

In a court-martial, Major Strong testified, "there have been concessions granted, but they have not been exclusive."

In Colombia, he said, a concession was negotiated by German capitalists with the Colombian government. Guatemala had given a concession to a French concern but Maj. Strong said it was not an exclusive arrangement.

Representative Frank R. Reid chief counsel for Colonel Mitchell, told the court the concessions had been reported to the war department by Maj. Raymond Walsh of the army air service, who told them to be a serious menace to the defense of the Panama canal.

The court then turned to Colonel Mitchell's charge that the national guard has been lying without parade for several years. Captain R. W. Macleod of Houston, Texas, "a guard officer and commander of a platoon," testified for the prosecution that the air squadron of which he was a member was supplied with parachutes a year ago and no pilot was allowed to take the air without a parachute.

German documents obtained from Berlin war office files after the war were produced by Lieutenant Colonel Christian Bach, historical officer of the army war college. "They made the claim that from Jan. 1, 1917, to August, 1918, a total of 6,625 allied aircraft and balloons were brought down by German aviators, anti-aircraft fire and by other methods."

THINK MATCH OR CIGARET CAUSED BLAST

Explosion Turns Southern Colliery into an Inferno, Rescue Crew Finds

VICTIMS MOSTLY NEGROES Explorers Proceed Cautiously for Fear of Another Gas Eruption

Birmingham, Ala.—(AP)—Twenty-six bodies were brought up from the recess of Overton Mine No. 2 Friday morning, bringing the total removed to 18. Mine officials and rescue workers believe that five bodies still remain in the mine, but have abandoned all hope that the remainder of the men would be found alive.

Mine officials expressed the belief that the total death toll would not exceed 55 as they estimated that all bodies except five had been recovered. Rescue crews worked patiently all night and continued their labors Friday hoping to remove before night fall the remaining bodies. The explosion was one of the worst of the common ones which since 112 lives were taken in the Virginia mine disaster in 1915, have snuffed out the lives of 245 mine workers in this state.

The Overton mine is the property of the Alabama Fuel and Iron company and is considered by federal and state mine officials one of the best equipped in the Alabama mine field.

The cause of the blast had not been officially determined, but probably never will be learned definitely. It is believed that most of the bodies recovered are those of Negro workers.

Wounded watchers kept vigil about the pit's mouth through a night of sorrow. The color line was obliterated, white and Negro were united in a common grief, and each tried to assuage the other's loss.

A Negro miner over his escape to his mine, black some where in the pit when the gas was worst and the outlook was darkest for the entombed men, out through the slope opening dashed a big fat mule. Clinging to the mule's tail was the Negro who had become temporarily blinded by the blast and took this means of saving himself. He said he knew the mule would "get out if there was any getting."

St. Joseph, Mich.—(AP)—Adoption of a definite program uniting Michigan, Wisconsin, Indiana and Illinois in a mutual campaign to keep Lake Michigan permanently free of sewage pollution, is expected to mark the second annual meeting of the Lake Michigan Sanitation congress, which opened a two-day conference here Friday.

The four states have selected representatives from cities which use the lake as the source of drinking water.

Authorities from municipal, state and federal health preservation agencies and sanitary engineers, will participate.

The delegation includes: T. Chalkley Hutton, chief of engineers of Milwaukee's sewage commission; A. D. Rich, C. M. Baker and C. D. Ferguson, state sanitary engineers respectively for Michigan, Wisconsin and Illinois; George H. Penkel, superintendent of Detroit water supply; Dr. William F. They confessed a number of automobile robberies and the burglarizing of Kenosha warehouse, however, and were turned over to Kenosha officers.

They are: Heyworth Palmer, proprietor of a roadhouse on the outskirts of Kenosha, Frank Wilson and George Novak of Chicago. Palmer at first maintained that the automobile about which he was questioned was a gift of a girl friend. Later he supplied the names and addresses of Wilson and Novak.

M'GINNIS NEW PRESIDENT OF RESERVE CORPS

Officers Hear Addresses by
Two Army Men at Valley
Chapter Dinner

Lieut. William J. McGinnis was elected president of Fox River Valley chapter of the Reserve Officers' Association at a dinner attended by 25 members at Conway hotel Thursday evening. He succeeds Lieut. P. O. Keeler, who has served as president since the chapter was organized last spring. Addresses were given by two regular army officers. The other new officers are Lieut. Harold C. Kunert, vice president, and Lieut. Theodore Nistric, secretary. They will assume their duties Jan. 1 and Lieut. McGinnis will preside at the next meeting scheduled for Thursday evening, Jan. 21. Discussion took place concerning a dance in the near future and the executive committee was instructed to act.

Capt. Fred L. Whitaker of Green Bay, who is serving in the regular army, talked to the officers concerning the 1926 citizens military training camp at Camp Custer, Mich. He impressed on them the importance of this phase of national defense and the need of the chapter's vigorous cooperation in securing a full quota of the best available young men of this community for the camp next summer. He announced that Lieut. Keeler had been appointed county chairman of the camp enrollment. The officers of the valley chapter will act as a committee to secure a large number of applicants for the summer training.

An address also was given by Lieut. Edwards N. Calvert, regular army officer stationed in Appleton. His subject was Supply Service Within the Infantry Division. His address was full of facts and specific and detailed information on this part of military organization.

An entertainment number which pleased the officers was a reading, "A Pair of Shoes" (Herman Hagedorn) given by Miss Marie McCloskey. She appeared in place of Miss Ruth McKeenan, who was unable to attend because of illness.

LAWRENCE STUDENT WINS JEWELRY WORD CONTEST

A 46 piece set of Vendome silver has been awarded to Helen Melas, Stoughton, a student at Lawrence college, for winning the Vendome Silverplate word contest conducted by H. A. Kamps, jeweler, which was closed Dec. 2. The object of the contest was to make as many words as possible out of the letters contained in the name "Vendome Silverplate." No word could be submitted in which any particular letter appeared more times than it did in the two words. Miss Melas submitted 6,312 words. The contestants were judged partially on the neatness and legibility of the list of words handed in. The original intention was to give only the one prize to the winner, but because there were over 100 contestants, many of whom did very well, it was decided to award three honorary prizes. The first of these, a set of knives and forks, was won by Mayme Halford, 918 E. Pacific-st., the second, a set of teaspoons by Dorothy Schubert, 315 E. Washington-st., and the third a set of spoons by Margaret Gosz, 1511 S. Oneida-st. Ralph Gee was the judge of the contest.

REPORT RAPID GROWTH FOR INSURANCE LODGE

More insurance was written by the A.O.U. Association for Lutherans during the first 11 months of 1925 than for the entire year of 1924, reports show. By the end of the year there also will be a substantial gain in new members over 1924, according to G. D. Ziegler, president of the association. During the first 11 months of 1925, insurance amounting to $214,875.00 was written and 7,134 new members were added to the association. This is a gain of 253 members and $857,000 insurance over the report for the first 11 months of 1924.

The last monthly report showed 450 new members added in November, and insurance aggregating $10,200 was written.

CITY BEGINS FLOODING MUNICIPAL ICE RINKS

Continued cold weather may mean skating rinks for the children and grownups within the next week or ten days, since the city street department has begun preparation in the various wards. It is necessary to have well frozen ground, however, before flooding will be come effective. A crew under R. F. Hackworthy, street commissioner, has applied water to the first ward rink in the lot at North and Meade-sts. The other places will be given similar treatment in a few days and the process repeated until a sheet of ice is formed. It is probable that a rink will be provided in the new ravine park in the fifth ward this winter. Mr. Hackworthy expects to arrange with the park board for banking and flooding.

Clarence Peterman and Earl McCourt attended the meeting of the National Safety conference at Green Bay Wednesday. The men attended the conference in the interest of the Interlake Pulp and Paper Co.

CHANGE RULING ON QUARANTINE FOR RED FEVER

Quarantine Remains Effective for 28 Days After Reported to Health Officer.

Attention is drawn by Miss Marie Klein, county nurse, to a change in state quarantine regulations for scarlet fever. Miss Klein has received a pamphlet on the disease from the Wisconsin state board of health.

Instead of requiring the patient to be placed under quarantine at least 28 days from the date on which he was stricken with the disease, the new regulations provide that the quarantine be in effect 28 days from the time the case is reported to the local health officer.

The reason for this change is obvious according to Miss Klein. Before this new regulation was passed, people often did not report the disease until after the patient had been afflicted with it for several weeks. When they finally did report it, the patient would of course recover within one or two more weeks, and although he was put under quarantine as soon as the health officer learned of the disease, it was lifted when the patient became well. Thus in many instances the patient would be under quarantine only one or two weeks.

Under the new regulation, the quarantine will positively not be lifted until 28 days after the disease has been reported to the health officer. This of course will serve as an incentive to report the disease as quickly as it is discovered.

Although this is the time of year when scarlet fever cases become prevalent, Outagamie-co is fairly free of the disease, Miss Klein stated. To her knowledge there are only seven or eight cases in the county at the present time.

The disease becomes more common in late winter and spring months, but decreases with the advent of warm weather and closing of schools. It usually attacks children but it may occur in any time of life, Miss Klein warned. Children are the most liable to contract scarlet fever during the ages of 2 to 10 years.

Increase Your Weight in Thirty Days

Ask Schlitz Bros., Downer's Drug store or any druggist for a box of McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets. They cost but little, are sugar coated and as pleasant to take as candy.

Skinny men and women take them to speedily put on plenty of good healthy solid flesh and for this purpose they are so extremely good that thin men and women often take on 5 pounds or more in 30 days. As a matter of fact, your druggist is authorized to return your money if you don't take on 5 pounds in 30 days. One thin woman gained 15 pounds in six weeks.

Be sure and ask for McCoy's the original and genuine Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets—60 Tablets—60 cents.

Letter Warns Teachers To Exclude Ill Children

Attention of county school teachers was called to the state law which provides for the exclusion of children from school who have indications of not being perfectly well in a letter which has been forwarded to the schools of the county by Miss Marie Klein, county nurse.

The letter reads in part:

"May your attention be drawn to the fact that it is the first child with a cough who does the harm in a schoolroom and if the one is excluded at once others will not follow.

"Colds are contagious, and we cannot afford to take chance for in childhood many diseases start with an apparent cold. It is with this in view that the county health committee urges prompt exclusion of each child with what might be termed as 'only a cold.' The state law reads that any child attending school showing signs of not being perfectly well should be excluded until it is definitely determined what the trouble may be.

"Any difficulty you may have can be overcome by referring to state ruling. At the present time there is in the county an increase in the number of cases of scarlet fever, (as well as some whooping cough, mumps and diphtheria). To control this it will take the close cooperation of everyone. May we depend on you to enlist your army in this fight against the disease foe."

As is indicated by the letter, the county health committee instructed Miss Klein at its last meeting to prepare this letter for delivery to county school teachers.

BUY LICENSE IF YOU WANT TO RUN TAXILINE

A warning that any automobile owners who are using their cars for hire must secure a license for this purpose has been issued by Chief of Police George T. Prim. Several taxi drivers have been arrested lately and have paid a fine in addition to the regular license fee, and it is the belief of the chief that there still are some drivers in the city who have not secured their licenses. Purchase of a license now will save these drivers from a fine, the chief pointed out.

REACH SETTLEMENT IN AUTOMOBILE SALE CASE

After part of the testimony in the trial of Adolph Soyck, Appleton, charged with larceny as bailee, had been taken in municipal court Wednesday morning the case had been adjourned to 2 o'clock in the afternoon to allow further investigation by the attorneys, a settlement between the defendant and the plaintiff, the August Brandt Co., was reached.

Soyck was arrested in Chicago Nov. 27 and brought back to the city by Chief of Police George T. Prim on the complaint of the August Brandt Co. The automobile firm charged that Soyck signed a contract on Oct. for the purchase of a Ford coupe, that he took the car on a trip to the northern part of the state with the promise to return a few days later, and that he failed to return as he promised and had made no further payments on the machine.

MME. MELIUS IS COMING HOME

Ambition, hard work and exceptional talent have raised another Appleton native to the pinnacle of success. Luella Chilson Melius has taken her place among the immortals who once called Appleton their home. Next Monday evening she is coming back to her friends and a real homecoming has been arranged for her. In the midst of the ovation accorded the gifted singer in Chicago a few weeks ago she expressed a desire to go home to her friends and her friends are preparing to welcome her with open arms.

The homecoming of Mme. Melius will be a big occasion for Appleton. A monster reception has been arranged in her honor and the friends of her girlhood will be there to renew their expressions of esteem and affection. No doubt the welcome given her here will mean more to Mme. Melius than any ovation by opera audiences for friends are always critical and if they are pleased her way with strangers will be less difficult.

It was a fine sentiment which induced Mme. Melius to sing her first American concert in her home town. It indicated that above all else she is intensely human. Pride in her achievement did not cause her to forget her friends and her friends love her more for it.

Appleton is proud of Mme. Melius. Our people rejoice in her in her success and next Monday evening they will express their regard for her in a way that she will never forget.

THE SENATE IS IN SESSION

Presiding officer of the senate: The order of business today is to determine whether the new senator from Wisconsin, Robert M. La Follette, Jr., is a Republican. (Hand clapping on the Democratic side.)

Senator Lenroot: I move we adjourn.

Presiding officer: You are out of order.

Senator Curtis: Mr. President, I move that the question be referred to the committee of the whole.

Senator Smoot: This is too important a question to be considered in committee of the whole at this time. We are in hole enough as it is. I would suggest the appointment of a special committee, consisting of five senators who have never voted for any candidate for public office except a Republican.

Senator Watson: This will be agreeable to me, provided one of the members of the committee is from Missouri, and with this understanding, I second the motion.

Presiding Officer: Are you ready for the question?

Senator Moses: I move that debate of this motion be limited to five days and five nights. (Applause by the Democrats.)

Senator Wadsworth: Mr. President, I cannot consent to such a proposal. The honor of our country and the glory of our party is at stake. Next to a consideration of the significance of the 14th of July, this is one of the most momentous questions ever brought before the senate, and I for one will never submit to application of the gag rule in this august body. We should debate this question as long as we have physical strength.

Mr. Curtis: Mr. President may I be heard again?

Presiding Officer: You are.

Mr. Curtis: I am surprised and grieved that the Republicanism of the young senator from Wisconsin should be called in question. I have carefully read all of his campaign utterances and find them in complete harmony with the orthodox principles of our party. (Grous from the northwest section of the chamber.)

Watson: May I interrupt the gentleman?

Senator Curtis: With pleasure, senator.

Watson: Does the junior senator from Wisconsin subscribe to the prohibition policy of our party?

Senator Curtis: He does. I take it, with great vigor.

Watson: One thing more, senator. Are you familiar with the Swiss cheese question in Wisconsin? Can you say whether the junior senator from that state believes the cheeses should be ten inches in diameter or should remain as nine inches?

Senator Curtis: I have consulted our campaign text book and find that his views are regular. Are there any other questions?

Senator McKinley: May I ask if the investigation conducted by the gentleman from Indiana disclosed other marked sympathy with cardinal Republican doctrine?

Senator Watson: He manifested an earnest desire to be elected.

Senator Smoot: That satisfies me. I am ready for a roll call.

Senator Reed: I suggest the vote be made a special order of business two weeks from today.

Senator McKinley: I am perfectly willing to agree to any date the senate may set, but there are certain questions of national policy entering into the date that has been proposed which ought to be carefully weighed. Is the gentleman from Pennsylvania aware that the date he has fixed is Christmas? Of course, we could by congressional resolution designate the day before to be observed as Christmas. Doubtless we would be justified in this action as a pressing state measure.

Senator Reed: Yes, I had thought of that, but if my colleagues are in doubt about the propriety of voting on that date, we could make it three weeks from today.

Senator Moses: Here again we would be in conflict with the well established national custom of observing the New Year.

Senator McNary: I do not think we should act hastily in this matter. I move that we set aside tomorrow afternoon to debate the question as to when the vote shall be taken.

Senator Ernest: I second the motion. Carried.

Presiding Officer: We will now pass to consideration of the bill establishing a closed season on potatoes.

(Excerpt from the journal of today's proceedings in the United States senate.)

UNDAUNTABLE

Lieut. John Macready is going to try to fly eight miles high. This is higher than any man ever ascended.

If he succeeds, and gets down alive, science probably will learn some valuable facts.

But do you suppose that, down deep in his heart, Lieut. Macready is moved by a desire to advance science?

Hardly. Rather, he has the old, unconquerable spirit of the gallant adventurer; the spirit that knows that death is unimportant and that life is sweet only if it is lived strenuously; the spirit that has animated all the explorers and empire builders since time began.

So here's luck, Lieutenant. May you fly high and land safely.

COOKING

Consider, now, the married man, whose wife is out of town. He's hatching things for just a week or two. His daily style of living shortly turns to upside-down. There's humor in the things he tries to do.

Mis home-sweet-home, at evening, is the picture of distress. He plans to make his supper from a book. He mullies nearly memorizes recipes, I guess, and then he bravely turns and starts to cook.

To say a man is clumsy at the stove is very tame. In truth he really finds himself at sea. He does the best he can in pots and pans, but just the same, there's nothing cooked the way it ought to be.

The little wife's a wise one who will leave home, now and then, for a hubby starts to realize her plight. He wishes he might be glad to have her on the job again, at cookin' time, cozily, every night.

Shooting dice for a living is a shaky business.

I today is one of the seven days on which it is un- lucky to act so darn foolish.

Always thinking what you say is much better than always saying what you think.

No man is old until he feels like kissing a girl on the forehead.

Consistency would be a greater virtue if it were not a great lie.

It's better to hard for a man to find a wife than to help him wash the dishes.

MOLES AND LIVER SPOTS

The lesions or blemishes popularly known as "birth marks" are not marks at all in the legendary sense of the word. No one who has the elementary knowledge of embryology (the earliest development of the body which every fairly educated child should have, can for a moment seriously entertain the notion of "marking" the unborn infant. That is one of the many superstitions which make for unhappiness and ill health where stark ignorance rules and knowledge or enlightenment is suppressed.

The irregularities of pigmentation popularly known as "liver spots" have nothing to do with the liver or its functions.

A mole is a small round stain or pigmented spot, usually elevated above the level of the skin, in some instances present at birth, in others appearing later in life. The medical term for mole is nevus.

Most of these moles or nevi are benign and call for no treatment unless they are such a blemish that the individual wishes to have them obliterated or removed. Some of them do ultimately develop into malignant growths, cancer, and for that reason it is generally advisable to have moles removed, particularly when they show certain changes in appearance after some years, such as increased pigmentation or color and increased vascularity or formation of little blood vessels in the mole or a tendency to ulcerate and bleed from slight injuries. Such changes, which warrant the suspicion of cancer, sometimes occur in a little mole or nevus which has given no trouble for 20 or more years.

It is unwise to attempt to obliterate or destroy moles with caustics, for that adds irritation, predisposes to ordinary infection (blood poisoning), produces very unsightly scar formation and too often fails to remove the mole. Repeated efforts actually favor the development of cancer.

If I had a mole or wart or similar blemish or lesion about the face or head, I should prefer to have the skin surrounding it, excised by surgery, under local anesthesia. This is the least irritating, least painful, safest and most effective way to deal with such lesions, and the scar remaining after a "kifful operation of this sort is probably least noticeable.

There are several other methods which may suffice for the obliteration of small brown nevi, among them electrolysis, fulguration, diathermy, X-ray, and freezing with carbon dioxide snow. Only a physician can safely apply any of these methods.

Some moles have a warty, rough thickened surface and often a growth of heavy hairs, and when not over half an inch in diameter these may be treated with electrolysis or X-ray.

Large pigmented moles (sometimes two or three inches in diameter) are no more likely to become malignant in character than are the small ones. In any mole, an even brown pigment is usually indicative of benign or harmless character, whereas black or blue color in the pigment spots more characteristic of the tendency toward cancer.

Liver spots or moth patches, are medically termed chloasma, and these are harmless areas of excessive pigmentation in the skin. We know they are harmless, and that is all we know about them. They are skin troubles, and in some cases apparently due to the same cause—exposure to sunlight. I know of no remedy.

LOOKING BACKWARD

25 YEARS AGO
Friday, Dec. 11, 1900

A ranchman from Montana arrived in Appleton this week on a mission of unusual interest. He was in search of a wife and as a guarantee of good faith showed $1,500, half of which he would bequeath to his wife on the wedding day.

It was reported today that a contract had been signed whereby the Fox river valley paper manufacturers were to ship 600,000 pounds of paper to Australia each month.

Henry Van Delar, employed by the Wisconsin Mail and Grain Co., was struck in the eye by a piece of steel from a tool. The fragment was one-fourth of an inch long.

Fifty of the leading farmers of the county were guests of the Commercial club last night. It was decided to arrange for a gigantic community institute to be held in Appleton in February or March. A. C. Brusewitz acted as chairman.

Nathan Goldbuss and Abraham Levinsohn, employed by Wisconsin Iron and Metal Co., were at an Oakshosh hospital suffering from injuries caused by an overturned automobile. The men were on their way to Appleton.

Friends learned that the Rev. Daniel Woodward, formerly warden of the state prison and more recently located at Butte, Mont., where he acted as the head of an association for caring for prisoners, had been obliged to give up his work on account of ill health.

PRO AND CON

In those same old days, the "pros" would accept no compromise but issued a flat demand that "the saloons must go." The cons, however, talking with their fingers crossed, put up such propositions as:

Just close them up on Sundays.

Remove the curtains from the saloon windows.

Enforce the practice of "treating."

Take away the bars and substitute tables.

Remove the free lunch counters.

Make the front door the "family entrance."

Q. Where is the world's longest automobile speedway? J. K.

A. The world's longest speedway within its own property limits is the Indianapolis Speedway, which is 2 1/2 miles long. However, at Monza, Italy, combining the speedway and the highway, the automobiles run a course of 5 miles.

The Question Box

General Robert E. Lee said: "The thorough education of people is the most efficacious means of promoting the prosperity of the Nation." These words of the distinguished Southern general are none the less true now than when he spoke them. Q. When was Chauncey Olcott born and when did he first appear under the management of August Pitou? C. H. E.

A. Chauncey Olcott was born on July 21, 1860. He is therefore sixty-five years of age. Mr. Olcott first appeared under the management of August Pitou in 1892.

Q. What was the ration of coal allowed the people in France during the World War? J. N. M.

A. Fuel was so scarce in France that during the winter of 1917-18 the amount of coal allowed to domestic consumers was approximately 11 kilos or 24 pounds, per month.

Q. What is the size of the 1925 apple crop? C. A. S.

A. The Department of Agriculture says that the total crop this year will reach 164,000,000 bushels, compared with 179,000,000 bushels last year. The decrease in total production, however, is partially offset by the fact that the crop is of unusually fine quality, and less than the usual proportion will go to waste or be used for manufacturing purposes. The portion known as the commercial crop will reach 30,144,000 barrels compared with 28,587,000 barrels last year.

Q. Are more radio programs broadcast at night? Is it because radio works better then? C. F. L.

A. Fine programs are given in daytime, but the most important musical programs are broadcast at night because at this time it is possible for the greatest number of people to enjoy them. Also, the electric waves travel farther in the dark than in the daytime.

Q. What was a gorget, worn by warriors? J. R. A.

A. It was piece of armor protecting the junction of the helmet and cuirass. It was worn at the close of the 17th century.

Q. What is meant by the expression "to be sent up Salt River"? A. C. B.

A. To be sent up Salt River (or creek) or to row up Salt River (or creek) is a slang expression meaning to be defeated or to fail in anything; especially applied to political candidates who fail at elections, with a supposed reference to a small stream in Kentucky.

Q. Did the United States pay France for the trenches used during the War? J. C. S.

A. The War Department says that the United States has never sold the rent to the French Government, or to a French citizen for the occupation of trenches in the battle line. The rumors in regard to this matter have probably originated from the fact that the United States rented ground for training purposes, and paid a certain amount for damages to property when training trenches were constructed.

Q. Where is the world's longest automobile speedway? J. K.

A. The world's longest speedway within its own property limits is the Indianapolis Speedway, which is 2 1/2 miles long. However, at Monza, Italy, combining the speedway and the highway, the automobiles run a course of 5 miles.

It may perhaps be of some interest to look back ten years and recall what ten novels were the best sellers then. Here is the list: "Victory," by Joseph Conrad; "The Turn of Mind," by Booth Tarkenton; "Pollyanna," by Helen Brown; "The Valley of Fear," by Arthur Conan Doyle; "The Seven Darlings," by Ethel M. Dell; "The Valley of Fear," by Booth Tarkenton; "The Valley of Fear," by Arthur Conan Doyle.

Not an imposing list. There is only one book in the ten that can by any stretch of the imagination be called a great novel. You have guessed it—"Victory." It is not Conrad's greatest, but it has a "clear right" to the title great, as has almost any Conrad novel that might be named. But for the rest the title could not be applied to any of the books that attracted the millions ten years ago unless we apply it with mental reservations.

"TURN OF MIND" NEXT

Perhaps "The Turn of Mind" comes the nearest to it. That book is very well done up to a certain point, as is the case with most of Tarkenton's novels, with exception perhaps of "Alice Adams" and "The Magnificent Ambersons," which hold out to the end. "The Turn of Mind" gives a good picture of the weller of American life and the character drawing is adequate, but there is a soft spot in Tarkenton which makes it almost impossible for him to end his stories logically, and "The Turn of Mind" is one of the best examples of his weakness. The ending is forced and artificial and gives the impression that the author got cold feet before he finished his task. The book is well written but it cannot legitimately be called great.

The next biggest name in the list is undoubtedly Conan Doyle but I doubt if "The Valley of Fear" is a great novel. Not having read it, I cannot express an opinion, but a few of Conan Doyle's novels can be called reasonably great and I doubt whether "The Valley of Fear" is among them. The title sounds more like his Sherlock Holmes stuff which is mediocre at best.

QUITE POOR

"Angela's Ashes" has perhaps the next claim to consideration, but it is so poor that it is not worth a second thought. "Angela's Ashes" was Henry Sydney Harrison's third novel. He had made a big hit with "Queer," on the strength of that he made another big hit with "V. V.'s Eyes," which was for the most part rather poor stuff. And on the strength of these two successes he made another hit, though not such a life one, with "Angela's Ashes." I read it at the time it first appeared and I still remember the tremendous drop that Harrison took in my estimation. It is not only not great, it is positively impossible as a book that lays claim to serious attention in the field of fiction.

The others in the list I have not read. Chambers' book is probably a highly colored but mediocre romance. "The Seven Darlings" is by a man who at one time could write but who soon dropped out of the race for serious attention. And "Hesperus Bunker" is by the author of "David Harmer," one of Wescott's earlier novels which had probably been in a trunk for years unable to find a publisher until "David Harmer" made a big name for the author. It is as dead ten years after publication as anything could be. As for the two "Pollyanna" books, though they are still very much alive, no one can reasonably look upon them as anything else than a joke; they can never by any chance be classed as literature.

All of which seems to show that the score is not very high for the best sellers of a decade ago. But probably it is as high as it ever is at any given point of time. One great book is ten is a fairly good average. But it is wise when to look back now and then when one is discouraged about the current crop of novels. Great novels are extremely scarce at any time and if one appears in any given year that year can be called a reasonably fruitful one.

HAMBURG'S CHILDREN CONTINUE PAGAN RITE

M. Braun, Carstens in Neues Journal, Vienna.

We people in Hamburg are half way toward the midnight sun which gleams up there at the North cape from the middle of May to the middle of July.

Around the time of the longest days the sun in Hamburg is still clear enough around 10 o'clock at night to permit us to read.

But toward the end of August when the days have grown very much shorter, the little children, through our beautiful and calm suburban streets and even through the streets of the poor and of the laboring people. They walk in long rows and carry banners lanterns in their hands. A little candle burns in each lantern and shows us gaily painted pictures which can delight a child's heart: tulips, cherries and very colorful birds.

The children, mostly girls, sing an old little song about the sun, the moon and the stars. It sounds very lovely and certainly goes back to the ancient Germanic times when people loved the red and sunshine so much. It is charming to see the little girl walk in long rows with their lanterns. They look like long garlands with glowing flowers therein. It is funny to hear them sing the old song with just the same pathos with which their ancestors must have sung it.

There is only one stanza in it and they sing it over and over again. "Laternen-gang" is the introduction of autumn. The little girls do it for weeks with devoted earnestness until finally one day they suddenly stop, only to start again the following year, as regularly as migrating birds time the day of their arrival and of their departure.

Huge Crowd At Concert In Chapel

An appreciative audience of about 1,000 persons attended the concert given Thursday night in Lawrence Memorial chapel by the Conservatory orchestra, assisted by the Schola Cantorum of 140 voices. The orchestra was made up of 35 musicians, all conservatory talent with the exception of the oboe player, a bassoonist and a double bass player who were imported from the Chicago Civic orchestra.

The orchestra played many splendid numbers presenting each in excellent style with clearness of tone and plenty of expression. Probably the most popular selection was Schubert's Symphony. This was a pretentious number for an amateur orchestra but it was rendered in such a way that the audience was held spellbound through the entire rendition. Ballet music from Faust, by Gounod, which included two numbers, "Entry of Trojan Maidens" and "Solo Dance of Helen," and "Sinfonia," by Janfield, also were favorites with the audience. Other numbers presented by the orchestra were Overture, "Titus," by Mozart and Aria from F sharp Minor Sonata, by Schumann.

The Schola Cantorum sang several Christmas carols with a finish and clearness that could be heard all over the chapel. "From Heaven High the Angels Come," by Gounod, and "Gloria to God in the Highest," by Pergolesi, were very well done and were well received by the appreciative audience. "Carol of Russian Children," and the "Shepherd's Christmas Song," by Reiman-Dickinson, were other numbers by the Schola Cantorum. Another stirring number given jointly by the chorus, orchestra and organ was Psalm 150, by Franck.

A free will offering was taken up at the concert and the proceeds of $85.50 was turned over to Appleton Welfare council which will use the money to buy food and clothing for Appleton's poor people.

Melius Program Here To Contain Many Favorites

MME. LUELLE CHILSON MELIUS

A PROGRAM which will give her an opportunity to display the wonderful range of voice which thrilled her audiences in Chicago has been arranged by Mme. Luella Chilson Melius for her concert here next Monday. The program includes several of the numbers which she sang in Chicago.

Mme. Melius will be accompanied here by A. Quensel, flutist and Ralph Angell, pianist. Mr. Quensel will play a flute solo during the concert.

Final preparations have been made for the reception for the singer in Masonic temple following her concert. A large number of Appleton people are on the reception committee.

Mme. Melius made her American sensation as Gilda in "Bohème" and when she had finished her song she received an ovation seldom accorded to any artist.

History records that only three times in the last twenty-five years has there been such a sensational operatic debut in Chicago. Charles Marshall, the tenor, achieved a memorable triumph when he appeared in "Othello," as did Galli-Curci at her premiere.

Sweeping aside scores of offers of concert engagements with which she has been deluged since her memorable performance of Gilda, "Bohème" Chilson has told all applicants that, aside from her Chicago Civic Opera engagements, she will appear no place until she first has sung a recital in Appleton. She wants her old friends to hear her first. She "wants to meet them as old friends" and sing to them as she did when she was a little girl in "Pigalle."

Following is her program:
1. (a) Caro Selve (Atalanta), Haendel
(b) Una voce poco fa (From "The Barber of Seville"), Rossini
2. Charming Oiseau (From "The Pearl of Brazil") ... David (With Flute accompaniment)

Intermission
3. Solo, Mr. Quensel, First Flutist, Chicago Symphony Orchestra
(a) Des Kindes Gebet, Max Reger
(b) Comment disaient ils ... Frank Liszt
(c) Nightingale and the Rose ... Saint Saens
(d) La Capricieuse (with flute accompaniment) ... Bonedict
5. (a) Kings of Night ... Watts
(b) Serenade ... Strauss
(c) Ah for so lui (from "Traviata") ... Verdi

B. & L. SAVERS GET 8 PER CENT FEE FIRST TIME

Dividend on Installment Accounts Will Be Paid Jan. 1 at That Rate

Monthly savers of Appleton Building and Loan association will receive their first dividend at the new annual rate of 8 per cent on Jan. 1, following action of the board of directors at the monthly meeting in the office of George H. Beckley, secretary, Thursday afternoon. The board also declared the customary dividend of 6 per cent annually on paidup shares and has engaged E. A. Dettmann as auditor.

Dividends paid this time will be for six months from July 1 to Dec. 31, on a basis of 6 and 8 per cent annually. Checks will be sent to those holding paidup shares and credits will be made on passbooks of monthly savers.

Mr. Beckley's report showed that the association did an excellent business during the month of November. The surplus will take care of the dividend payment amply and leaves a good balance.

Several amendments to the bylaws so they conform with new state laws were presented and will be acted upon at a special meeting of the board on Tuesday, Dec. 29. Plans also will be made at that time for the annual meeting on Jan. 14, 1926.

Although the association has its books inspected annually by examiners of the Wisconsin banking department the board decided the business had grown to the point where an annual audit should be made by its own accountant. Mr. Dettmann was retained and will serve the organization in its accounting work from time to time.

START MOVING BRIDGE TO NEW PLACE IN "FLATS"

Work has been begun by the city on the removal of the bridge on S. Island-st to the tail race of Telulah papermill. The street department is hauling dirt from the clay bank back of the Fourth ward brewery and is filling up the place where the approaches will be located. It is the plan of R. F. Hackworthy, street commissioner, to have the roadway built so that only a few loads of earth will have to be dumped after the bridge is in place. This is a matter of precaution, he says, because the fire department might have difficulty getting to the island if the bridge were not available. A concrete culvert is being built where the bridge formerly stood. The tail race where the bridge was located no longer is in use. It was felt by the city that traffic could be served best by moving the bridge, where it will replace one which is unsatisfactory for heavy traffic. Several weeks will be required to do all the work.

FIND PAROLE OF LEOPOLD, LOEB IS POSSIBLE

Illinois Jurists Indignant Over Dangerous Commutation Law Just Discovered

Chicago—(P)—Several police officials and judges professed amazement Thursday over the discovery of a statute relating to the parole of criminals which they said puts into the hands of a state department power to nullify all sentences of juries and judges and to turn out of the penitentiaries any convict at any time.

The statute was first brought to light by Captain John Stege of the detective bureau in connection with search for an explanation for the parole recently granted Ira D. Perry, Jr., sentenced to life imprisonment three years ago for murder.

The act passed in the closing days of the last legislature session amends the old law of 1873 under which fixed allowances of commutation of sentence were automatically granted convicts.

"This is the most outrageous thing that was ever foisted upon an unsuspecting public," said Judge William N. Gammill of the criminal court.

Similar comment was made by Captain Stege, and the Herald and Examiner said that several notable lawyers pointed out that under the law, Nathan F. Leopold and Richard Loeb, sentenced to life plus 99 years, could be restored to liberty.

Police Thursday continued a search for Perry ordered arrested on five old indictments charging robbery. The indictments were reinstated by State's Attorney Crowe when he learned of Perry's release.

YOUTH OF 75 MARRIES LASS OF 73 AT OSHKOSH

Oshkosh—Two residents of the village of Oshkosh were married at the Winnebago-cathedral here Wednesday by Judge D. E. McDonald. They were Levi H. Williams, 75, and Sarah Hoover, 73. The couple asked for a special license and asked the judge to perform the ceremony then and there. Mr. Williams is a contractor. He told officials his bride "certainly is a good cook." They left arm in arm, apparently as happy as any bridal pair that ever took the vows.

Out of the $1,000 visitors who signed the official album at the birthplace of William Shakespeare in Stratford-on-Avon, $2,000 were from the United Kingdom and 11,169 from America.

Members of the council of the boys' department of the Y. M. C. A. will be held every two weeks from the present time, it was decided this week. The council met on every Monday evening since its organization but the business of the department has been transferred so successfully that a meeting every two weeks is sufficient to carry on the regular work of the governing body. Special meetings can be called at the discretion of the department manager.

RADIO LISTENERS ARE TAXED BUT INCREASE

Stockholm—(P)—The radio listener in Sweden must pay for entertainment, but nevertheless license holders increased from 75,000 to 80,000 last year. A few of 12 krone paid by license holders has provided funds for an improved program. Demand on the present broadcasting stations has necessitated fresh arrangements. It is planned to build a high power station in the center of the country having a wave length of 1,730 meters.

400 CHILDREN TO HAVE PARTS IN YULE PROGRAM

Grade Schools Alone Will Have 200 Children in Christmas Pageant

Kaukauna—A new list of the number of players in the Christmas program being prepared by the Parent-Teachers' association shows that about 400 children will take part in the work. The cast includes 200 grade pupils, 100 children from the Junior high school and about 50 high school people.

Solo parts in the program will be taken by Correll Runtz, Hildegarde Westlund, Ross Rowell, Lester Lindemuth, Alex Jacobson, Willis Miller, William Ashe and Kenneth Ryan.

Due to the fact that many of the high school musicians who play in the orchestra also will be in the chorus the orchestra will not play accompaniment for the entire program of music. The orchestra will play an opening and a closing number and also will play for the procession of the singers. All the singers of the chorus will be vested and will be seated in the front of the auditorium instead of back stage as last year.

Due to the fact that many of the seats of the auditorium will be taken up by the people in the program there is only one room for the audience. The ticket sale was started Wednesday with Olin G. Dryer at the head. Tickets will sell for 25 cents and only enough tickets will be sold to fill the auditorium. Last year crowds were turned away and it is expected that many more will have to be turned away this year. It is also impossible to give the entertainment for two nights as all the dates for the auditorium have been taken.

Special scenery and stage settings are being prepared by the high school manual training department under Stanley Begum and the domestic science department under Miss Anne Johnson.

The vestments for the chorus are being prepared by the children's mothers.

SELL POULTRY AT STOCK FAIR

Farmers Notified That Poultry Buyers Will Be in Kaukauna Saturday

Kaukauna—The monthly pig fair will be held Saturday under the auspices of the Farmers Tri-County Fair association at the fair grounds on the south side.

A poultry fair also will be held at the request of several large stock buyers from the southern part of the state. This fair gives the farmers a chance to sell poultry which they do not want to keep all winter. Last month it was estimated that between 2,000 and 3,000 chickens, ducks, geese and turkeys were sold and it is thought that many more than that will change hands this week.

Notice has been sent to farmers in this vicinity that a large number of buyers will be on hand. Many townspeople also took advantage of the poultry fair last month to obtain their Thanksgiving birds and it is expected that many more will be on hand this week to get birds for Christmas.

ONLY ONE CASE OF CONTAGION IN CITY

Kaukauna—There is only one case of contagion in Kaukauna at the present time according to Mrs. James O'Connell, city nurse. This one case is scarlet fever.

"Of course," said the nurse, "there is the usual epidemic of sore throats and colds that is always prevalent at this time of the year. But by taking the proper care these troublesome ailments may be checked before any serious illness results."

According to the nurse, the contagion is the result of carelessness. If the parents will make a report to the proper authorities at once contagion can always be checked. But most people are afraid of being quarantined and therefore they hold off until it is too late and the damage has been done.

One case of a contagious disease can always be watched and taken care of and these isolated cases occur in every city.

17 CHOSEN FOR RED AND WHITE BASKET SQUAD

High School Will Begin Shaping Team for Interscholastic Games

New London—With the close of the high school interclass basketball tournament on Thursday came the choice and announcement of players who are to comprise this year's all-school squad, from which will be taken the team which will represent the high school in interscholastic games.

The following 17 men were chosen: Matthew Clark, Alvin Barlow, Gregory Charlesworth, Gerhard Ludwig, August Becker, Laurel Westphal, George Knapsen, Richard Cooley, George Dornbach, Arthur Glasenapp, Richard Johnson, Harold Sweeney, Lowell Seims, Louis Kische, Francis Griswold, James Edminster and Edward Cochran.

The majority of these came from the sophomore class, that organization furnishing seven players. Six are seniors, two are juniors and two are freshmen. A large number are experienced players and have taken part in interscholastic games previous to this time. This assures the high school of a basketball team this year that will probably be above the average.

A practice schedule is arranged whereby the regular squad will work out on Monday and Tuesday evenings and on Thursday afternoons. Thursday evenings are reserved for the all-school squad.

The game was the third between the two classes, the other two games having tied the two classes for second place in the tournament.

Each team played the other twice, with the exception of the juniors and sophomores, who played their third game on the closing night. The seniors won first place undisputedly, winning all their games. The sophomores won second, the juniors third, and the freshmen took the end.

The freshmen also played their third game Thursday night, when they bumped heads with the male members of the faculty. The teachers won by the score of 10 to 4, although the yearlings kept them hopping for the victory.

BENTZ IN JAIL AWAITING TRIAL

Check Passer Probably Will Appear in County Court to Enter Plea

Waupaca—John Bentz, who was arrested at Clintonville and given a hearing before Justice Patterson, is now in the county jail awaiting a chance to plead guilty in a higher court. His request will probably be granted and instead of waiting until the May term of circuit court he will be taken before Judge William Martin at some regular session of the county court. Mr. Bentz was arrested on complaint of the Clintonville State bank and was charged with issuing worthless bank checks. The sum involved was $33.70. It is also said the young man is wanted on the same charge in other parts of the state.

Wednesday night was an open one in the schedule of the local bowling league and two picked teams therefore matched to roll, much to the amusement of the fans. A team headed by Irving Cook lost by eight pins to one picked by Peter Schneekloth. These games are preparatory contests to selecting a team to represent the city in the state tournament at Milwaukee in January. The total scores were 2,683 and 2,691 for the three games. Some of those whom the most was expected failed to roll up to their usual average, while others did not exceed their average to any great extent. It was claimed that considerable was wagered on the outcome. They rolled as follows: Cook's team—Lindahl 179, 237, 195; Charles Larson 179, 170, 165; Bob Holly 155, 177, 174; I. STAGE And SCREEN

QUEER DILEMMA
IN DENNY STARTS LAUGH

Where were you on January 9, 1927?

Think. Try to recall that day. If your life depended on it, would it help you or drive you into a panic?

Poor Reginald Denny was driven frantic when he tried to remember that date in his latest and funniest comedy-drama, "Where Was I?" a Universal-Jewel which is being screened at the Elite theater 3 days starting today. William Selzer directed the famous young actor through his action with an unusual supporting cast of laugh producers, including Chester Conklin, Leo Moran, Otis Harlan, William Turner, Arthur Lake and Tyrone Power.

January 9, 1920, was the date on which Pauline Garon claims she married him. To prove he didn't, he has to have an alibi. Marian Nixon, as his fiancée, has to be kept in the dark, and it is averted that the efforts to do this, combined with the ensuing complication, make this picture more of a laugh producer than "I'll Show You the Town."

MIXED THRILLS AND LAUGHS IN PICTURE
The audience at the opening performance of "SPEED" at the New Bijou Theatre today gave voice to its appreciation of the screen material offered by an alternating chorus of laughter and startled exclamations.

The chuckles created by the advent of the staid parents in up-to-date city finery and a snorting racing car, gave place to gasps of wonder when a motor-car with no brakes is driven at a mad pace down the side of a steep mountain with a yawning precipice on one side of the road. The theme of the picture has to do with the resurrection of a mid-aged couple by a visit to the big city, and the coming down of their young son and daughter who were rapidly becoming disciples of the jazz-age.

The picture sticks closely to the plot of the original story by Grace Sattwell Mason that ran recently in the Saturday Evening Post. If anything, the tale is more thrilling, as it is easier to picture action than make it register in type.

Adolph Menjou comes to the Fischers Appleton Theatre on Monday and Tuesday as the star of the Monta Bell-Paramount production, "The King on Main Street," written for the screen by Douglas Dill from Leo Dirlebach's New York stage hit, "The King." Greta Nissen and Bessie Love are featured opposite the star.

The story opens in Technicolor with Menjou, as the King of Molvania, reviewing a long line of cavalry from a cozy, cozy, cozy dais. We get this idea that the young ruler is bored stiff with everything that's going on.

In one of the royal apartments a short time later, Menjou's Minister of Finance (Maurice Maerow) and other statesmen are reminding the king that the country requires a large loan. The only way it can be obtained is either through a marriage with the House of Savonia or a trip to America.

"We shall go to America," the King announces, "via Paris."

The story goes on to show in a humorous entertaining way just what happens when the philandering king meets the most famous dancer in the French capital and then, in America, falls in love with a young American girl, only to be forced to return to his own country without her.

"The King on Main Street," is the culmination of a dream of years of set upon making this one of his. Both Monta Bell and the star, it is a perfect role for Menjou. He has all the advance reports, he has more the temperament, the air of sophistication, the finished type of acting necessary for it. He had his heart set upon making this one of his.

Also "The Rainbow Gardens" arch-necessary for it. He had his heart set upon making this one of his.

CINDERELLA BALL ROOM

Mr. Chas. R. Maloney,
Cinderella Ballroom,
Appleton, Wis.

Dec. 8th, 1925

I have been dancing as regular as weeks come and go, in Milwaukee's higher public dance halls for the past six years, and have endeavored during this period to find out just why one hall was a success, not alone financially to the owners, but to the dancing public as well. I would call a ballroom a success to the dancing public if it was liked well enough to bring to it most of the dancing public of the city, so that one could go there and know he or she was going to have a good time, because all these friends would be there.

I have been going to the CINDERELLA twice a week since it opened and I know from personal observation, why you are packing them in. The first time I stepped into the ballroom and made a tour of inspection, I realized Mr. Maloney in laying out the ballroom knew what the key to success was, and that is to give the dancing public what they want, and he sure did. First of all you come to dance, and therefore want music which will make you want to dance. Mr. Maloney realized this and secured AL GABEL'S orchestra, unquestionably the best in the business, and made up of eight clean, young men. Then the public wants a ball room big enough, so they can really dance and not be stepping on each other all the time. The CINDERELLA Ballroom is the largest in Wisconsin, with a beautiful floor, which is kept well waxed at all times. Installed in the ballroom is the finest ventilating system on the market which keeps all parts of the hall at a set temperature at all times, which does not make necessary opening of windows and having icy blasts blown on you, when you are perspiring freely from dancing. One of the big things that make a hit with the dancing public is the fact that the ballroom is kept immaculately clean at all times. You will find no place, not even the floor, that is not clean enough to sit down on. Therefore you can always be assured of keeping your hands and clothes clean when you are at the CINDERELLA. The next thing CINDERELLA can boast of is the courteous employees who know they are there to serve the public and to make friends of them instead of enemies. They are men and women who know how to trust you, so that you will come again. Nothing has been overlooked at the ballroom to make things pleasant. There is a large beauty den for the ladies where they can primp to their heart's content, and the men are even allowed the privilege of smoking in one section of the hall. This is only possible because of the excellent ventilating system. Then there is a large clean refreshment stand where everybody can quench their thirst.

In summing up in a few words, I would say that the Cinderella is packing them in, because MR. MALONEY left no stone unturned and spared no money, time, energy or good judgment, in giving the public what it wants, and the dancing public is proving it to MR. MALONEY three times a week by coming in swarms. Don't believe me, come and see for yourself.

Further, the name among the dancers is CINDERELLA. Why? Because Jim goes, Marie goes, John goes, Harry goes, Edna goes, Helen goes, and therefore they all must go, 'cause they are friends and like to dance with each other. It's a great pleasure for a dancer to go to a place and know that he is going to find a large crowd there and all his friends, because then he or she is going to have plenty of dances and a good time.

Yours Very Truly,

DAN FITZGERALD.

THREATEN LOCK FOR ROADHOUSE ON DARBOY ROAD

Glass Front Owner and Manager Ordered to Show Cause Why Place Should Not Be Closed

The first attempt to padlock a roadhouse in Outagamie county will be made here next Tuesday, Dec. 15, when Janet Leonard and Fred Diehl, manager and owner, respectively, of the "Glass Front," located on the Darboy-rd just outside the city limits, will appear in court to show cause why the place should not be condemned as a public nuisance and closed.

An order summoning them to court was served Thursday afternoon by Peter Schwartz, sheriff of Outagamie county. The order was issued by John A. Lonsdorf, district attorney.

This action by the district attorney followed numerous complaints which have been received from persons residing near the resort that it was a disorderly house.

If the defendants in the action fail to appear at the designated time, an order closing the house may be issued by the court.

This is the first time that padlock proceedings have been instituted against a roadhouse in this county. The action is not a part of the activities of prohibition officials, although following close on the heels of three raids by state prohibition men in the city and county last week.

If the padlock proceedings are successful, action against a number of other places in the county with similar reputations will be started, according to the district attorney.

Similar undertakings have been unspurring in several other counties in the state during the past few weeks, although the majority of the actions were made on the part of prohibition officers. Especially has this been true in Milwaukee-co.

"THE ACCURATE FOOTFITTERS"

ONLY RICH MEN CAN REPRESENT U. S. ABROAD

Salaries Paid Ambassadors
Do Not Begin to Pay Their Living Expenses

BY CHARLES P. STEWART

Washington—The average man probably will say $17,500 is a pretty good yearly income. An income's sufficiency, however, depends on how its recipient has to live. "Has" to live? Can't he live to suit himself? Not always. An ambassador, among others, has got to live up to his job. "Go" is the word. His style of living is a matter concerning which a diplomat has no choice.

That's why the United States diplomatic service is a service for rich men exclusively. This isn't necessarily true of the consular service. A consul hasn't a plenipotentiary's social obligations. It isn't true of foreign diplomats in America. Most of them draw two, three or four times the pay ours do. Our ministers at a very few modest capitals do manage to live on their salaries. But generally speaking it spells ruin for a man without large financial resources of his own to accept a foreign post under our government.

The ambassador, or minister, isn't the only one whose official income can't support him. His whole staff of secretaries and attaches are in the same fix. Their expenses aren't as high as their chief's but neither are their salaries.

To illustrate, take the case of a commercial attaché I once knew at one of the old world capitals. He arrived, went to work, proved to be a very competent individual and performed with great credit to himself. Washington complimented him highly. He seemed to like his billet and everybody took it for granted he was a permanent. But at the end of six months he unexpectedly announced that he was resigning.

Surprised, I asked him about it. "I'm dependent," he said on my salary which is $5000. I thought I could live on it. So I could, if I had only myself to consider. But I can't regulate my own expenses. One day I had occasion to call on the minister of finance for certain information. I got it and an invitation to a swell party. The same thing happened at the ministries of foreign affairs and commerce and agriculture and a long list of other government offices. Now it's up to me to begin returning this hospitality. I can't make any more business calls until I do. And it will bankrupt me. So I'm quitting instead."

Mr. average American, who had a few friends in for a quiet little Thanksgiving celebration, knows what a crimp it put in the family budget. Suppose he were called on, as an ambassador is, to give a magnificent ball and banquet three or four times a week besides formal dinners too numerous to mention, for a glittering throng of high functionaries, of nobility, of royalty maybe, resplendent in gold braid, emeralds, diamonds, and decorations. How long does he think his roll would last in such company, even on a $17,500 basis? And of course an ambassador has to maintain an establishment and a retinue of servants in proportion.

This is no argument in favor of high diplomatic salaries. Most American diplomats are dead willing to foot ambassadorial bills for the honor they get out of it. They can afford it, too, or they wouldn't be foolish enough to accept appointment. In these days of rapid communication ambassadors and ministers aren't as important as they used to be, anyway. It's a rich man's game, however. There's no getting away from it.

Tripp, of this city, president of the Association for Relief from High Water, which has the state recently, states that official notice has been received from Washington setting December 15 and 16 as the dates for the association's hearing before the war department committee on high water and flood conditions in the heart of the state. FEDERAL ROADS TO BE ARTERIALS

Traffic on New United States
Highways Will Be Given
Right of Way

The state highway commission last week decided to declare all federal highways in the state and a number of state highways as arterial, that is, roads on which the traveling public has the right-of-way in preference to that of all cross-roads except in the cases where arterial highways intersect.

The only roads affected in Outagamie-co are state highways 15 and 18, which will become federal highways No. 41 and 12 respectively. The first passes through Appleton from Kenosha to Marinette; the other passes through the city from Manitowish to the Minnesota state line. The changes will add but a small portion of W. Wisconsin-ave, a portion of S. Oneida-st, a part of W. Post-st and a part of S. Cherry-st to the Appleton arterial highway system; the remainder of the territory covered by the two routes is already designated by the city as arterial.

Among the Wisconsin arterial routes are state highways 75, Milwaukee to Fond du Lac; 64, Milwaukee to Beloit; 17, Milwaukee to Illinois state line; 19, Watertown to Sun Prairie; 41, Fond du Lac to Viroqua Junction; 41, Milledown to Readstown; also all the federal routes: No. 2 Hurley to Superior; 10, Illinois line to Minnesota line; 16, Milwaukee to La Crosse; 48, Milwaukee to Prairie du Chien; 51, Hurley to Illinois line; 61, La Crosse to Dubuque; 53, La Crosse to Superior; 112, Oshkosh to Fremont; 118, Oshkosh to Oshkosh; 119, Green Bay to Milwaukee via Manitowish; 151, Madison to Fond du Lac.

More Cities Begin To Wake Up To Manager Government

Indianapolis is the last great city to wake up on the manager plan. It wants a manager now and the movement is as serious as it was in Kansas City where the plan has been adopted and the selection of an administrative head is the municipal topic of discussion. It is a peculiar fact that while at first it was thought the manager form was best only for the smaller cities and impractical in the larger and more metropolitan centers, it is now in the large cities where the movement has been making most headway. Cincinnati will go to the system in June and others are seeking ways and means for establishing a real business operation of the municipality. Indianapolis has been one of the worst examples of the politically ridden cities of the country.

An American authority who recently has made an extensive study of municipal government in Europe made this declaration at the meeting of city managers in Grand Rapids last week: The cities of Britain and the Continent would no more think of putting an untrained and incompetent man in an important municipal office than they would of putting dynamite under the city hall. For generations these foreign cities have maintained the practice of putting only men of ability into administrative positions, and of keeping such men there. These cities have not reached the millennium stage and they are not free of politics. But politics, certainly politics of a cheap type, has not been allowed to interfere with the administrative side of real government.

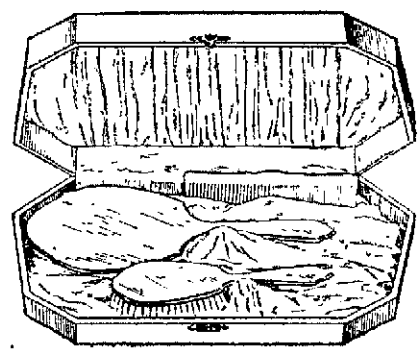

The manager plan of government in this country gives the American city the chance to do what the European city has been doing for a good many years. It gives the cities the chance to keep politics in a subordinate position. A close observer of the manager system since it began to operate asserts that in no instance has one of the 350 or more cities with the system made a political selection of a manager. (From Janesville Gazette.)

POSTAL PATRONS HEED MAIL EARLY WARNING

That people are heeding the campaign to do their Christmas shopping and mailing early is evident by the increase in volume of mail which has already been noted at the postoffice, not only in the city mail but in the country as well.

Packages which are without doubt Christmas parcels are being delivered and collected every day by the rural mail carriers, and as the month advances the number of these packages increases constantly.

Letters addressed to Santa Claus continue to pour in at the postoffice. Some are addressed to the north pole, some to local stores, a few to just Appleton, while one or two had no address whatever. Only about half of these letters have any postage on them.

TAX CUT WON'T HELP HOME OWNERS MUCH

Those who pay small taxes in Appleton will be helped less by the lower rates fixed by the common council than those who pay large sums, due to the cancellation of the homestead exemptions of $500 this year.

All assessments were raised 5 per cent a year ago in order to make up for the deduction occasioned by the homestead exemption law. Those who owned their homes had $500 taken off the raised figure and their taxes therefore were lower. The law was repealed by the last legislature. The assessments stay just as they were last year for those who had no exemption but $500 is put back on those of home owners.

Manufacturers, merchants, owners of homes for rental purposes and other such taxpayers, therefore, pay on as much of a valuation as a year ago and the reduction of approximately 15 per cent in the tax rate therefore is a benefit to them. In the case of the home owner, however, this benefit is offset by the higher assessment.

MOTOR CAR MADE DETROIT, NOW IT CHOKES STREETS

City of Automobiles Is Struggling to Make Good Thoroughfares for Output

Detroit, (AP)—Detroit wasn't so much until the automobile came chugging into the picture. But just as too much prosperity frequently proves an expensive thing, so do many of the roads here suggest that too many automobiles may spoil the municipal budget.

Almost everyone in Detroit, it seems, drives. Everyone with as little as $5 for a first payment is a potential purchaser. Detroit makes more automobiles than any other city; two hundred thousand of its population are employed in automobile factories. They make motor cars, and they ride in them.

So Detroit's thoroughfares are choked with machines. Drivers by the ten thousands, trucks, passenger cars of every description, jitneys and motor busses. The automobile industry has "made" Detroit. It also has created serious problems. Detroit today is hard pressed to keep pace with its motorized citizenry.

Subways, elevated, wider streets, stringent parking regulations—all have been suggested as remedies. In the meantime the situation becomes more acute. Where to put a car is more of a problem to many than raising the revenue to build it. Garage shortages in many sections, coupled with the native thrift or parsimony of owners, have worked to increase at night parking at curbs, big and shiny ones stand with their headlights shining. There is added another perplexing problem.

There has been evolved what is known as the "Master Plan," entailing an expenditure within the next 15 years of $100,000,000 for new thoroughfares and the widening of many existing arteries.

For two years past street widening has been in progress, but it has not kept up with traffic increases. A superhighway to bisect the city, providing a direct east-west side thoroughfare, has been approved by the voters. Yet today, before the approved plan has begun to take shape, it has been found that the proposed $6-foot street will be inadequate, as the plans are being revised for a 120-foot paved way.

The traffic problem is by no means confined to downtown Detroit. It extends even beyond the city limits. Several of the street widening projects now under consideration are eight miles or more from the business district. Some of these streets are to be widened to 200 feet, one superhighway, connecting Detroit and Pontiac, cities 25 miles apart, provides room for machines moving in each direction at the same time. Yet even this roadway already has experienced serious traffic tieups.

USED BETTER ALABASTER LAMPS IN KING TUT DAY

London, (AP)—Whereas the world is just beginning to use alabaster for electric lighting, the Egyptians 3,275 years ago made even finer alabaster lamps than are produced today. Howard Carter, co-discoverer of Tutankhamen's tomb, said in an address here.

Mr. Carter made known that in finding many of these lamps in the tomb the secret of how the Egyptians illuminated their homes was revealed. The lamps were executed in beautiful designs in translucent alabaster, and one of them stood about three feet in height, with a large central cup. There was no decoration on the exterior or the interior, but immediately a light was played in the vessel there could be seen a picture of the young king and queen in colors. This effect was produced by another vessel, with the decoration on its exterior, being fitted inside the lamp so cleverly that the joints between the two vessels could not be seen.

BOSSY DECLINES TO STAY SOLD, RETURNS

Cold Ash, England, (AP)—As dogs are known to have returned to their master after long spells of enforced absence, so did "Bossy," one of the best cows on any farm in this section, return to her lot stall after being sold to a faraway neighbor.

Her owner drove "Bossy" to market and disposed of her to a farmer 12 miles away. The buyer took her home. But when milking time came next morning "Bossy" was back home in Cold Ash, a little tired from her long walk, but seemingly happy in a homely sort of way.

SCENE FROM "SPEED"

AT THE NEW BIJOU TODAY AND SATURDAY.

JAPANESE ROADS ADOPT U. S. COUPLING SYSTEM

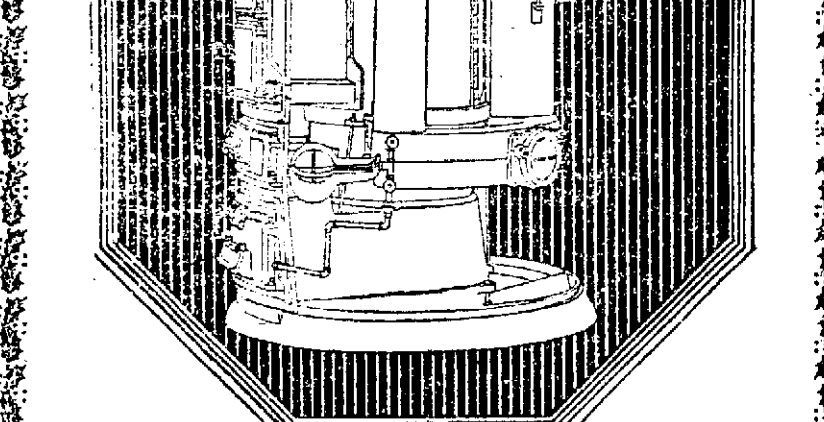

Tokyo, (AP)—In one day recently the majority of the 70,000 freight cars of the government railways of Japan, and many of the passenger coaches, were equipped with the modern type of American automatic coupler. All of the cars had been using a European coupler of the hook and line type. More than 150,000 of the American couplers, which are manufactured by a Chicago firm, were purchased and distributed throughout the various railway yards of Japan.

Once they were held up by three burly fellows who walked into their camp (bullmen were unknown) well armed with pistols. The trip was frightful, but her husband remained calm.

One of the men demanded that he change a ten dollar bill which the young man recognized as a counterfeit. When Copelan refused, they began unloading their pistols.

"With all the bravery and daring of a young soldier, my husband reached back as if for a gun and dared them to shoot," Mrs. Copelan said. "I've heard cannon," he said, "do you think I'm afraid of pistols?" They retreated slowly and finally disappeared.

The moderate old of a Southern winter caught them before they had reached their destination, and Christ-

"M'GUFFEYS" TO PERPETUATE OLD FIRST READERS

Indiana Association Occupied in Preserving State's Original Textbooks

Indianapolis, Ind., (AP)—The small school house that dotted Indiana's hillside half a century ago have become garages and granaries, but the lessons learned in them from the McGuffey readers will be perpetuated by "The McGuffeyites," an association of Hoosier state natives.

In the days when the three R's constituted the curriculum, the readers prepared by Dr. W. H. McGuffey were the standard, and often the only texts. Many a copy, its covers battered and leaves worn thin by hard usage from each successive child of the family, went on the mantelpiece beside the family Bible and "Pilgrim's Progress," where new educational methods and subjects discarded the one-room rural school. The McGuffey readers and their contemporary, the little red schoolhouse, became only symbols of a step in the evolution of rural education.

Then, several years ago, a letter in the reader's column of the Indianapolis News asked: "Where can I get the old McGuffey school books? I studied 45 years ago?" Two persons answered the inquiry with offers to share their McGuffey readers but refusing to sell them. Other Indians whose alma mater was the hillside schoolhouse asked access to the readers. In several months The News published 74 letters about the McGuffey readers.

In the seventy-fourth letter, Otis J. Miller of Bloomington, called a meeting of "McGuffeyites" in Indianapolis, and an organization was perfected and named. Its purpose is to keep alive the traditions of the McGuffey readers and the little red schoolhouse days. Today the organization has 200 members, publishes a monthly newspaper, and holds regular meetings.

Finest For Sunday Gun Toting

Winchester, Va., (AP)—Just as Gus Hill of Strasburg, was about to ap-

After 12 years' suffering with constipation, Kellogg's ALL-BRAN brought lasting relief

Florida woman feels ten years younger. Nomore headaches or medicine.

Think what it means to be everlastingly free from the dull, throbbing headaches, sallow skin and perpetual tiredness which are constipation's toll. But let Mrs. Bevis tell you her inspiring story:

Words can't express my gratitude for Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. For 12 years I suffered with constipation, always taking medicine, had dull headaches and never felt well. For the past 12 months I've eaten ALL-BRAN and haven't taken one drop of medicine. I've gained in weight, my health is so improved I feel 10 years younger.

11,263 INDIANS IN WISCONSIN, COOLIDGE TOLD

Badger Indians Have Credit of $3,600,000 in United States Treasury

Wisconsin now has an Indian population of 11,263, Commissioner of Indian Affairs Burke, said in his annual report to the Secretary of Interior Work. Of these, however, only 3,169 are full bloods.

Wisconsin Indians are divided into the following classes: Winnebago, 1,296; La Crosse, 1,369; Menominee, 1,890; Lac du Flambeau, 897; Wisconsin Potawatomi, 323; Rice Lake Chippewas, 172; Kansas Potawatomi, 300; Bad River Chippewas, 1,162; Red Cliff Chippewas, 586.

Total value of Indian property in Wisconsin is $15,368,973, of which $4,224,947 is individual property and $11,142,026 is tribal. Wisconsin Indians have left the in United States treasury $3,631,579.

Commissioner Burke said that it is now planned to start milling operations on the Menominee reservation in the spring of 1926. The large saw mill which has been operated on the Menominee reservation since 1908 burned last year, resulting in almost complete cessation of logging and milling operations since that time. The construction of a modern reinforced concrete mill is now under way.

A concerted effort toward the improvement of health conditions and advancement of education among the Indians was made during the year, Burke said. Wisconsin was praised for cooperation in both activities. The Menominee Teachers college was one of the institutions designated for special instruction in subjects closely related to health education of Indians.

Work on the final roll of the Chippewa Indians of the Lac du Flambeau reservation is nearing completion, and the Stockbridge Tribe has filed its petition in the Court of Claims for final adjudication of its claims against the government.

NO MORE RED PLATES ON CITY OWNED CARS

Touring cars, coupes and roadsters used by the Appleton street department and the county highway department and other cars in public work will not be distinguished by the familiar red license plates next year.

The state has issued notice that hereafter full license fees will have to be paid on all public vehicles except patrol automobiles, ambulances, machines of the fire department and trucks. These will continue under the old system whereby $1 is paid for the license. Nevertheless, the red license plates will be discarded on these cars also. The new ones will be indistinguishable from the other license plates. It was held that police cars operated under a handicap because they were easily recognized by the red plates.

AVERAGE STUDENT SPENDS $735 DURING SCHOOL YEAR

Since 1922 the average loan is $165 to each successful applicant. Thirty-two men and eight women students have been aided since the creation of the fund.

Says--Now Stiff Joints Must Go!

New Discovery Limbers 'Em Up and Even the Creaking Ceases.

Yes, it's true—the world progresses. All you have to do nowadays to limber up that old stiff, creaky knee joint is to squeeze a half inch of miracle-working substance from a tube.

Then rub it on the offending part for about a quarter of a minute or until it soaks through the skin and disappears on its errand of mercy.

Then read the evening newspaper and go to bed.

The chances are that your misbehaving knee joint will lose its "creak" while you are dreaming about the high fences you used to leap when you were a youngster.

"And in the morning," says one who has tried the new discovery, "you'll feel so happy that you'll want to jump into your sportiest clothes and walk briskly down the street just to show the neighbors that you are not as old as they think you are."

Joint-Ease: They call this wonder-working substance, for the reason that when ordinary remedies fail to bring up the stiff, inflamed rheumatic joint or reduce the swelling, Joint-Ease succeeds.

It's a good name for a good, clean, stainless prescription that in just a few months has proven to a multitude of people that lame, swollen, distorted joints can speedily have the kinks taken out of them and work as smoothly as ever.

But Joint-Ease is for bothersome joints, whether in knee, elbow, ankle, hip, shoulder, spine or finger, and for that purpose its sale, at 60 cents a tube, is immense.

Voigt's Drug Store sells dozens of tubes of it every week and druggists everywhere report a big demand.

Always remember, when Joint-Ease gets in joint agony gets out—quick.

The course will close Sunday afternoon when a meeting will be held at 2:30 at the Green Bay clubhouse. Judge William N. Martin of Waupaca, probably will be the speaker. The subject of discussion will be juvenile delinquency and its causes and remedies.

Thursday's meeting was conducted by Paul O. Keicher, valley scout executive. He devoted the session entirely to scouting. He explained the psychology and ideals of the scout oath and law, tenderfoot requirements and first aid. Close control discipline then was taught by means of "snap drill" military drill. Handcraft in leather also was resumed by the men, who were learning to make belts, handbags and other articles by hand.

Each of the scout patrols into which the men have been organized for their training was given a copy of Smith's "Recreation and Games" and was instructed to have a stunt read for Friday's meeting.

Adventures Of The Twins

THE TRAVELER CLOCK

"What clock shall we fix next?" asked Nick.

"Tick Tock looked in his little book and ran his finger down the pages. Then he stopped when he came to a certain name, and read it carefully. "The little traveler clock is out of order," said the fairy. "The Fairy Queen says it needs a good cleaning—that's all. Come on. I know where it lives. It lives in a little leather case in the trunk of a man who travels all over the world. He has no real home, but stays in a hotel in the city."

So off to the city went the three adventurers and down a wide street. Although it was night, the street was as bright as day, because of the street lights and the gay shop windows.

"There's the hotel," said Tick Tock stopping. "The traveler clock is on the tenth floor up, third window to the right."

"How do you know?" asked Nancy doubtfully.

"Humph! How do I know anything! Do fairies ever make mistakes? It even says in my book that Mister Trotter is a sound sleeper, so that's sure too! Mister Trotter is the traveler who owns the traveler clock."

"Of course it would be a traveler clock when a traveler owns it, and it travels all the time," said Nick.

"Much you know!" sniffed Tick Tock contemptuously. "Why a traveler could own a hundred clocks and take them with him every single place he went to, but still they wouldn't be called traveler clocks. A traveler clock is a clock made specially for traveling. There are two kinds. One kind is made of glass all over except for brass along the edges and a brass top. It fits down into a thick leather case, but can be lifted out and set on the mantel. The other kind is round like a watch. It is of leather too, and can be worn about your neck. It isn't folded flat. This clock we are going to see is the first kind. All glass and brass and as square as domino sugar."

The Twins and Tick Tock, having made shoes scrambled up very quickly to the tenth floor and hopped into the open window which was third from the end.

"Hello!" called a tiny voice brightly from the mantelpiece. "I was looking for you. I told one of the Fairy Queen's fairies yesterday to send someone to fix me. And here you are! How'd it do?"

"How do you do?" said the Twins and Tick Tock getting their keys and oilcans and tools all ready to fix up the little clock.

"Brrrr! I feel as though I was going to have a tooth pulled," chattered the clock. "I almost wish I hadn't said anything. But it is very important that I keep exactly the right time for my master depends on me to catch trains and boats and even airplanes sometimes. I don't think I need much but a good cleaning because I am pretty strong. I can stand all sorts of bumping and upsetting and even bad climates, which is more than most clocks can do. I was built for traveling."

"We'll soon have you in order said Tick Tock encouragingly.

I hope you haven't got tired of my long, long letter, Little Marquise, but I have much more to say to you because I am now recording one of the most interesting things that have ever happened to me.

When Melville Sarotis said, with his mouth close to my ear, "Almost thou persuadest me," I thought, "What a queer remark to make!"

For a moment I almost lost the rhythm of the tango we were dancing. Mr. Sarotis pulled me up sharply.

"Tired?" he asked. "Shall we stop dancing?"

"No, I'm not tired," I answered. "I'm just trying to translate or interpret your last remark."

"It needs no interpretation, Lady Fair. It stands dark and clear in its simple declaration: Almost thou persuadest me."

"Persuadest you of what or to what?" I asked almost impatiently, for I had always thought I was a clever woman, and I could not understand this riddle.

He said nothing, however, and we danced on in silence until the music stopped.

"Come, Mrs. Prescott, will you come out on the balcony for a little while? Perhaps then I can interpret my last remark."

I glanced over to the table where Syd and Jack were. Jack was talking earnestly. He had not missed me. Syd seemed restless, but I could not tell whether it was because he was not much interested in what Jack was saying, or because the tango had finished and I had not returned to the table.

"Yes, I will go with you," I said. "I don't think I'll be missed for 15 minutes or so."

Melville Sarotis led me to sheltered place out on the wide balcony three stories above the street, that had been fitted up for after-the-dance conferring. Whoever had furnished it had arranged it in such a way that although there might be 20 couples there, all of them would have a certain privacy of their own.

After setting me on a long steam-er chair he drew up a gaily chintz-upholstered one and seated himself on the arm of it.

"Leslie," he said gravely, "I want you to know me."

"But I do know you, Mr. Sarotis," I asserted.

"No, I do not think you do. In fact, I sometimes think I do not know myself. Tonight I am going to try and explain myself to you, and then, although we may never meet again—for I am sailing tomorrow for an indefinite stay abroad—I will be able when out there in some night on a tropical sea, to conjure up your wondrously beautiful face and hear the echo that will always be in my heart of your exquisite voice."

Score by quarters:
Appleton 2 4 3 0—9
Menasha 3 9 7 2—21
Referee—Dempsey, Lawrence.

Inability to cage baskets, and poor passing and teamwork plus one Urban "Zook" Rennel, all-tournament forward of Menasha high school at the distance were the main reasons, sent the Appleton squad down to defeat.

Appleton will meet the Fondy squad at Fond du Lac Friday night in a battle to keep out of the loop. Fondy is favored to win, the locals determined to put up a good battle. Fondy lost a bad battle to Kimberly, which looks like the best team in the loop at present. Kimberly whipped Menasha 21-9 in the first round of the Appleton league. The league struggle is bound to be close and the winner Friday night will be in position to finish high in the race. Several stars of the first water are included in the Fondy lineup.

"Hippo" Wastum will jump center for Fondy with Captain Bill McKelvey and Chink Dolan as forwards. Duke Brown, another forward, will be in the line. Other players on the team are Butsy Son, Jimmy Hartwig, Tubby Ruhl and Hub Sherman. Other candidates for the team are the Steinhardt twins and Westwick, DeVore and Smith of last year's Varsity team.

A bad defeat at the hands of the Menasha Athletic Association quint here Thursday evening in an Eastern Wisconsin league game, by a score of 21-9. The games was the first for the Appleton squad in the league schedule.

Rennel was the big star of the battle and his work kept Appleton practically senseless. He would pass or dribble his way down the floor to the Appleton scoring zone where he continued right where he had left off in the district tournament at last year and sank basket after basket with his "dead" eye. Once within the free throw area he was practically sure of a marker.

None of the Appleton guards, including three former Orange stars, could stop him or even slow him up and when fouled to stop a basket he showed his ability to cage the free throw with ease. Altogether he garnered 7 baskets and 3 free throws for 17 of his team's 21 points and without his services even the poor play of the Appleton men would have whipped the Pails.

Appleton exhibited a lineup of experienced players, but their lack of playing together was apparent from the start. Their passing was poor, what there was of it, as instances of good teamwork were few and far between. However, they had tough luck at the hoop, several shots going in and rolling back over the rim at critical moments. Practically every basket made was through individual effort of one of the Appleton players. Courtney and Hagen at guards showed effects of two years off the courts. None of the Appleton men played excellent games but Reetz, C. Tornow and Hornbeck were about the steadiest workers. Beside Rennel, Weyenberg at forward and Kelly at guard played neat games for Menasha.

Grove opened the battle with a free throw on Ray Tornow's personal shortly after the opening whistle and then Ray missed one on Grove's foul. C. Tornow followed a long try to make a pretty basket for Appleton and Weyenberg missed a free throw on C. Tornow's foul. After Moore had missed another free try on Grove's second personal, neither team was able to score until just before the close of the quarter when Reetz fouled Rennel when he drove in fast for

PENN MISSED KRUEZ IN ILLINI BATTLE

Philadelphia — The loss of one star player often throws the mechanism of a highly sensitive football machine out of gear. Supporters of University of Pennsylvania are taking solace in that truth as the result of the overwhelming defeat by Illinois.

Penn played Illinois minus its "Red" Grange in the person of Al Kruez, the player largely responsible for the defeat of Yale and Chicago.

"Where would have Illinois been without Grange?" is the way the Penn undergraduates put it.

RED HAS TROUBLE IN MONEY "FIGHT"

Illini Phantom Is Injured in East and Motion Picture Owners Take Picks on Him

New York — (AP)—Troubles are piling up for Red Grange in his dash toward a million or something near that. The football flash from Wheaton, Ill., lasted but one period when his team, the Chicago Bears played the Pittsburgh All-Stars in Pittsburgh Thursday. Then a doctor found that he had burst a blood vessel and a ligament had been torn in one arm.

At the same time the motion picture theatre owners of America, announced in New York that the football star's proposed picture would not be allowed in any of their theatres if the $300,000 check advanced to be placed in escrow by the Arrow Pictures Corporation last Monday should prove to be "publicity bunk."

Grange expects to continue with his game to Detroit Friday where he will consult a physician and his participation in the game there depends on the doctor's orders. After a 9 to 6 beating at the hands of the Providence Steam Rollers in Boston Wednesday, the Bears underwent the most crushing defeat of their journey so far when Big Andy Gustafson, Pittsburgh University fullback this year, led his eleven to a 24 to 0 victory.

Grange was inclined to make light of his injuries. A Champaign, Ill., bank reported that the much discussed $300,000 check had arrived there and that it was signed by W. E. C. Shallenberger of the Arrow Pictures corporation. It was also stated that checks for Red were being received in almost every mail.

HOTEL PIN SQUAD TRAMPLES SMITHS

Smith's Slashers were no match for the fast-stepping Hotel Northern bowling squad Wednesday evening on the Olympic alleys and the Hotelmen walked off with three straight games and an easy 331 pin victory. Not a man on the losing squad was able to dent the 200 mark. F. Smith coming the closest with a 196. He also had high series for the losers, a 338.

Van Able of the winners took high series honors of the evening with a 553, although he failed to count a 260 score. Bill Pries of the winners had a high game of 211 andbauer, a team-mate took the only other double century mark of the evening, an even 260 score.

Smith's Slashers won 3, Last 3—Blind 140, 140, 420; F. Smith 163, 196, 175, 536; Blind 140, 140, 420; C. King 183, 118, 127, 158; Blind 110, 140, 420; Totals 768, 761, 722, 2251.

Hotel Northern won 3, Last 3—Bauer 135, 200, 143, 478; P. Pries 123, 211, 181, 515; Van Able 182, 177, 191, 553; A. Bauer 192, 161, 177, 530; H. Berge 197, 151, 155, 509; Totals 829, 903, 855, 2585.

a side try. Zeke made both extra tries and the quarter ended 3-2 for Menasha.

Weyenberg opened the second quarter by missing a free try on Hornbeck's personal and then Courtney sent Appleton's hopes high with a pretty ringer from midline. This was short-lived, however, as Rennel playing like a demon, drove under the Appleton basket for three straight double-centuries, all of which came from within the free throw mark. In less than two minutes, Hagen fouled Scholl who missed both free tries and then Hieble raised the Appleton total to six on a neat side shot. Weyenberg missed a free throw on Courtney's foul and then eased his way under the Appleton goal and marked up a ringer with no one near him. On Hagen's second personal Weyenberg added a free throw and Hagen missed one on Grove's third foul, as the half ended with Menasha leading 12-6.

Rennel added another point as the third quarter opened when Hieble fouled him. After Hornbeck had dropped a ringer and a free throw on Kelly's foul and it looked like an Appleton rally was started, Rennel again came to his team's aid in the pinch. As in the second quarter, he shot under the Appleton basket to uncork three ringers in less than two minutes with his dead eye, the last going through just before the quarter ended with Menasha leading 19-9. The last quarter was a desperate fight with Appleton trying long shots which went into the basket and rolled out and Menasha playing defense and stalling at times with the clever Rennel outwitting the Appleton rushers. Appleton was unable to score and Rennel ended proceedings with a neat shot for Menasha's last basket.

CURRIE FAMILY TAKES EAGLE PIN LEAGUE HONORS

High Scores on Two Shifts of Loop Go to Father and Son; Bob Ties Alley Record

Members of the Currie family shared all honors in the Eagle Bowling League Tuesday evening at the Eagle alleys, making quite a family affair of the high honors. C. Currie clipped off a 233 score for high game and a 382 score for high series on the first shift, copping the shift prize and then son Bob went had one better or maybe two better by dropping the pins for a 268 game score and a 639 series for the $1 prize on the second shift. Bob's 268 game mark also tied the high score on the alleys for the year, held by the senior member of the Currie family.

Bob had no easy sledding to take his high game prize on the second shift as Hy Strutz worried him all the way and ended up with a 266 score, just two pins below the record mark. The 266 score gave Strutz second high alley score for the year. However, he was able to garner only a 585 three-game total.

HORTONVILLE SQUAD TRIMS GRIMMS FIVE

Hortonville—Led by the classy shooting of Don Morgan, star forward, Hortonville City team walked the Grimms Boosters, conquerors of the strong Kimberly-Clark Athletics, in a game played at the local Opera House Wednesday evening by a score of 15-7. The game was fast and clean throughout with superior shooting deciding the issue. The score at the half was 12-4 for Hortonville.

The defensive work of Dabney, Collar and Meyers, Hortonville guards, and the shooting of Morgan, Oik and Seffon, forwards, and Dutch Wahl, center, combined with neat footwork by the forwards and Wahl, was far superior to the Grimms' eager play. Morgan caged 6 baskets for 12 of his team's 18 points. The Logan twins at forwards, starred for Grimms. The Hortonville lineup was Wahl, center, Dabney, Oik and Morgan, forwards, Dabney, Collar and Meyers, guards.

CORNERS QUINT OPENS SEASON WITH APPLETON

Twelve Corners basketball squad which went through a successful season last year in its first year in the court game, has organized for the season and is putting in many hours of hard practice in preparation for its opening game on Dec. 18. The players are being held with the Black Creek city team and the Corners boys are beginning to show real form. Starting out last year with boys around 16 years of age, the village crew won several games and had a successful year. In another year with the same crew intact and three years of play behind them they expect to battle some hard teams.

All of the boys are Twelve Corners youths and most of their games are played in Valley Queen hall, where their eye for the basket is very accurate. The lineup consists of Ray Smith, center; George Stinkle and Ed Holden, forwards; Joe Bergholz and Shorty Heiden, guards; Art Smith, sub. The first game on the card brings the Happy Five of Appleton to the Corners hall. The Appleton lineup is uncertain but is said to include Sells, Mirkes, R. Tornow, Radtke, C. Tornow and Bender. Teams desiring games can write the manager of the Twelve Corners team.

FORDHAM HAS DONE WELL THIS SEASON

Fordham, one of the undefeated teams in the east, has hung up a noteworthy record this season. In its first seven games it counted 282 points to but 12 for the opposition. Providence and New York University were the only teams to score on Fordham.

REINKE IS PARTNER IN BILLIARD PARLOR

Lawrence "Rink" Reinke, an employee at the Pindle and Jabas and Carr and Pindle Billiard parlors for the last three years, has purchased Jabas' interest in the parlors and will take over his part of the firm this week. The new firm will be known as the Pindle and Reinke Billiard Parlors.

Reinke is one of the best billiard players in the valley and paired with Harold Pindle, present state pocket billiard champion, makes a combination hard to beat on the green-covered tables. Several excellent billiard matches have been secured by the new management for immediately after Christmas and a number of challenge attractions also are on the program. Pindle himself, will play several matches before defending his title at the state tournament at Madison. He has arranged nearly a half dozen battles for himself already as "trainers" for the big meet.

FINANCES CAUSE TROUBLE FOR GO

Floyd Fitzsimmons May Have to Turn Wills-Dempsey Bout Over to Tex Rickard or Others

Chicago — (AP)—Financial storm clouds are gathering over the proposed bout for the heavyweight boxing title between champion Jack Dempsey and Challenger Harry Wills, giant negro, set for South Bend some time next year.

Unwillingness of the South Bend syndicate to post the substantial forfeits required in the contract obtained last summer by Floyd Fitzsimmons, Michigan City, Ind., promoter may result in the withdrawal of the backers. A new set of financiers, a promoter, perhaps, Tex Rickard and a new site for the bout will be discussed in Los Angeles, next week at a conference of Dempsey, Fitzsimmons and Ray Cannon, Milwaukee attorney, legal adviser to the champion. Doyle's 50 acres in New Jersey may be the battlefield. Rickard who always maintained that the bout would be a financial failure anywhere but in New York, says it's all news to him. He dropped out of the case when Dempsey split with Jack Keenans, former manager, with whom Rickard had an agreement that Dempsey would fight for no other promoter.

The champion is in Los Angeles admitting that the contract with Fitzsimmons has been broken is not greatly concerned. He understands that another offer may be made to him, but does not know he says, what it is to be.

The offer is coming from a Chicago syndicate anxious to bring the bout here, says Holt, Ray Benton, press agent and spokesman for Dempsey.

The president of the Chicago syndicate will come to Los Angeles next week, Benton said. Somebody has been dickering without authority with Tex Rickard for the fight to go to Detroit.

Dempsey wants to eliminate the clause in the South Bend contract preventing him from fighting before he meets Wills. Benton also volunteered.

Dave's Dots And Dashes

Rumor has it that the 1927 tournament of the Wisconsin Bowling Assn. may be held in Green Bay. It has been several years since this pinfest was held in the northern part of the state. However the Ray City now has an ideal layout to stage the event in the Columbus Club. Allys and we would like to see it come this way.

Sam Kresky, for three years a star on the Marinette High team, has been elected captain for the next season. Kresky has had much to do with the success of the Purple team especially in his season when his forward passing pulled several games out of the fire.

Sheboygan High will attempt a unique basketball opening on Saturday. No first team has been picked as yet by Coach Iverson but has arranged for two games, one with Kiel High and the other with Cedarburg. He will use all of his likely looking candidates and the results will determine the make up of his regular team.

Co. M. of Fond du Lac will meet Sheboygan on Friday at Sheboygan in a regular game of the Inter-State circuit. It should be a real battle, since whatever advantage Fondy may have because of its collection of all stars will be offset by the fact that the Sheboyganites are playing on their home court.

The first games in the new Eastern Wisconsin basketball league were staged this week when the Kimberly Clark Athletics defeated the Fondy Moose 27 to 19. Koll, Kimberly's dynamite forward ruck 5 field goals which helped the Kimberly victory along considerably.

Due to the unexpected knockout of Joe Azzarella of Milwaukee it may be necessary for Jack Brunkhorst to rearrange his boxing card slated for Dec. 15. He had as the feature attraction on his program Azzarella and Jimmy Ryan of Des Moines but since Petrolle disposed of the Cream City batter the state boxing commission is likely to rule out Azzarella. It may be that Joe Dawson well known Milwaukee fighter will be substituted.

PAUL MANTHY IS WINNER IN LOCAL SKAT CLUB MEET

Any Skat Player in Appleton and Vicinity Invited to Take Part in Tournaments

Paul Manthy, secretary of the Appleton Skat Club, walked off with high honors in the regular tournament of the group Sunday afternoon at Eagles' hall when he won 17 games and lost 2, turning in a net of 15 good hands and a score of 649.

Mike Jacobs, with high score of 537, took second place. Paul Sell copped 14 games and lost 1 to turn in a net of 13 good hands and a score of 533 for third prize, and Hans Hawken-son of Neenah, with second high score of 507 took fourth prize. Charles Schmitt played clubs against 5. Another tourney is scheduled for 2:30 Sunday afternoon at Eagles' hall and the Manthy says everything is in readiness to entertain all skat lovers of this city and surrounding territory. Many of the players come from Menasha, Neenah, Kaukauna, Kimberly, Little Chute, Waukegan, the Pere, Hortonville and other nearby towns.

The Appleton Skat club was organized three years ago for the sole purpose of promoting more interest in the game. It was not organized for profit as all entry fees are returned to the winners in prizes. Only the necessary expense to carry on the club such as rent, playing and score cards and postage are deducted from the entrance fees and the balance is given in prizes. Tournaments are held each Sunday afternoon at Eagles' hall and all skat players of the city and vicinity are automatically members of the club and can participate in all of the tournaments by appearing at the hall and entering. There are no dues and only the entry fee must be paid. The entry fee is $1.

For the last two years, 80 hands have been played at each tournament but this year only 60 hands are played as quite a few of the unken come from Wrightstown, De Pere, Kaukauna, Kimberly, Little Chute, Neenah and Menasha. The 60 hands limit the entry cap and gives every one a chance to get home in time for supper.

Officers of the club are Charles M. Schmitt, president; Peter H. Jacobs, vice president; Paul Manthy, secretary; Peter H. Jacobs, treasurer. Interest in the club tournaments is again growing this year to such an extent that requests have been made to transfer a tourney to either Neenah or Menasha every fourth or sixth Sunday and this may be done. The players will be notified of the change if it is brought about.

CITY AT LAST MAY CLOSE UP ALLEY TANGLE

Woolworth Company Makes Agreement With Officials to Alter Building

Attempts by the city of Appleton for almost 50 years to provide an adequate alley back of the buildings on the north side of E. College-ave between N. Oneida and N. Morris-sts are about to bear fruit through negotiations completed at the city hall Thursday morning with representatives of F. W. Woolworth Co. An agreement virtually was reached to shorten the five-and-ten-cent store building at the rear sufficiently to give the required driving space.

Two men of the construction department visited Mayor John Goodland, Jr., and A. C. Bosser, city attorney, to discuss the city's wishes. All property owners except the Woolworth company had given land to the city to widen the alley and the mayor has been in communication with the corporation in an effort to finish the job.

Sufficient property now will be located the city, the mayor was informed, so that the alley can be completed. The agreement is that the cost of tearing several feet off the rear of the five and ten cent store will be borne by the city in return for a donation of land. The work will be done next spring and it was said by the Woolworth men that a new and attractive store front will be erected on College-ave at the same time. It will be of marble base and the doors will be placed at each end of the front space, leaving the entire center for a long display window.

The alley deal would have been completed several months ago, but the attorney who came here to make out the legal papers dropped dead just as he arrived in New York city, where he was to finish the task at the Woolworth general offices. A new man was assigned the work and the negotiations had to be gone all over again. The attorney who was here Thursday intended to go to New York to have the papers signed so the work can be done soon.

Inquiry as to the reason for the lack of protection has been begun by R. G. Vort, traffic manager of Appleton Chamber of Commerce. He has addressed a letter to W. R. Basing, agent of the railway, calling attention to the near accident. The company is asked to determine whether the gates are rendered inoperative by freezing weather and if that is the case, to place automatic bells at the crossings as an additional precaution.

BOY CUT ABOUT HEAD WHEN CARS COLLIDE

Walter Letter, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Letter, 531 N. State-st., was cut over the left eye when the truck in which he was riding crashed into a car owned and driven by John Hoffman, 1003 W. Eighth-st., at the corner of W. Eighth and S. Cherry-sts about 6 o'clock Thursday evening. The truck, owned by the Northern Motor and Structural Iron Works, and driven by A. W. VanRyzin, was going north on S. Cherry-st and Hoffman was driving east on W. Eighth-st. Hoffman had stopped at the Cherry-st arterial, but did not see the approaching truck before starting across the street. He applied his brakes in an effort to avoid a collision, but the slippery pavement caused his car to slide down directly into the path of the truck. Both cars were badly damaged.

AUTO CARRYING PUPILS NEARLY HIT BY TRAIN

Emil Zeidler and Five Children Narrowly Escape When Gates Fail

Six occupants of an automobile owned by Emil Zeidler, 843 E. North-st., had a hairbreadth escape from being struck by a Chicago and North-western passenger train at the N. Union-st crossing about 8 o'clock Thursday morning. The traffic department of the chamber of commerce is making an investigation as a result.

Mr. Zeidler was conveying five children to Roosevelt Junior high school, according to his daily custom and drove across the tracks while the southbound passenger train due at the crossing. Gates protected the crossing at this point and they had not been lowered. The automobile cleared the rails just as the train rushed past.

The driver had slowed down and had shifted his engine to low gear as he approached the rails because the view is obstructed at this point by factories. The gate on one side was entirely up and that on the other side was at a slight angle and neither was descending, Mr. Zeidler said. He was not aware of the approaching train until a young woman on the sidewalk waved frantically. He was shifting to second gear at that moment and glanced to the right in response to the warning. The locomotive was only a short distance away and it sped past the rear of the car as Mr. Zeidler applied the power and caused the car to leap clear of danger.

TAX WARRANT IS LOWEST IN THREE YEARS

Treasurer Will Collect $1-
129.907 from Taxpayers
Next Year

As the 1925 tax is to be collected during the coming tax-paying period, the amount of taxes in the city of Appleton is the lowest in three years, according to the tax warrant issued to the city treasurer for collection by J. P. L. Williams, city clerk.

School taxes are about $35,000 less than last year, and the general fund taxes are about $65,000 less. The taxes would have been still lower were it not for the increased amount asked by the county. The city's share of the county taxes is about $65,000 higher than a year ago.

The tax warrant includes the following items:

School taxes—District No. 1 $20,000.75, district No. 2 $42,477.50, district No. 3 $25,000.52, district No. 4 $12,000.35, senior and junior high schools $170,200.55, vocational school $46,110.75. Total $316,815.50.

Other levies are: City's portion of state taxes $4,207.50, general county taxes $216,330.82, a total of $220,538.32; city library $15,000, general fund levy $333,461.01, county schools $35,500.40, delinquent water accounts $65.93.

Special taxes—Flushing, $3,311.11, offing $6,330.76, building $4.75, sewer $14,521.42, cinders $4,401.30, paving $19,659.64, sidewalks $2,110.20, snow removal $455.54. Total $82,113.42.

Income tax—Normal tax $145,064.82, soldier bonus $1,538.58, soldier education surface $1,578.93, teachers retirement fund $19,981.63. Total $168,163.96.

The 1925 assessment on which the above taxes are levied amounts to $30,740,500. The average tax rate is $29.54 on each $1,000 of assessed valuation.

It is shown also in the warrant that the city now has bonded indebtedness of $470,000 on its school and $314,000 on its waterworks plant, a total of $784,000.

The warrant for taxes collected in January, 1925, amounted to $1,245,081.91, and for 1924 to $1,141,156.46.
